

Does God Create Evil?

By

Frank Danger

(16,666 Words)

Please Click Here to View the Table of Contents

Please Click Here to View the Introduction

Table of Contents

Contents

Table of Contents.....	2
Introduction .....	Error! Bookmark not defined.
What Is Evil?.....	4
How does God Fight Evil? .....	8
Evil Makes God Suffer .....	11
How Does Humanity Create Evil? .....	13
Why Does Humanity Create Evil? .....	16
God Does Not Create Evil.....	21
Conclusion.....	26

Introduction

The universal war between good and evil has dominated human history for thousands of years. Who has the power to destroy evil? Does evil still exist because God does not have the power to destroy it? Does evil still exist because Humanity is so detached from God that God cannot stop our efforts to destroy human life?

Are people with mental illness evil? Does a mentally ill person's need to injure and to destroy life constitute evil? Is mental illness a disorder that is related to our need to justify the intent and the power to injure and to destroy human life?

God does suffer when He must destroy human life to remove evil from the face of this Earth. God cannot tolerate the existence of a force like evil that fantasizes about injuring and destroying human life all the time. God wants to consistently purify humanity by continuing to remove elements of evil from our lives.

Why does evil exist? Does evil exist because God's Universe is defective? Are human beings that could be classified as evil a product of birth defects? Are evil persons born with birth defects that would lead them to want to injure and/or to destroy human life?

What are the ways that God would want to remove evil from His Universe? He could incarcerate evil people after they have been found guilty of committing a crime. He could cause the death of evil people. He could permanently disable evil people. He might find other ways to punish evil people.

God is on a mission to understand what He has been doing wrong to allow the existence of evil to come to exist in His Universe. God is a purely good being. God wants to create human lives that will become constructive components of Humanity. God wants to develop His new human lives into young adults and adults that will function as good people that will love being part of humanity and that God's Human Beings will love.

Why do some babies develop a hatred for God and for Humanity? God allows us to have the freedom to believe that we can think evil thoughts about our brothers and sisters. God gives us the freedom to believe that we can hurt ourselves and that we can hurt others without facing the consequences of what we have done. God tries to develop a game plan to either reform us when we engage in evil or to remove us from Humanity when He has no choice with us.

God works with the Holy Spirit and with Humanity on a daily mission to remove evil from having the continuous capability and willingness to injure and/or to murder human life in God's Universe. God loves all of us even if we express the intent to engage in evil activities. However, God cannot continue to support the existence of evil in His Creation. We must work with God and with the Holy Spirit to put an end to evil by helping evil people to reject evil and to learn to become attached to a loving and forgiving God. This must happen for them before God removes them from Humanity for a long period or for the rest of their lives.

God and the Holy Spirit believe that they must defeat and destroy evil. Doing so without injuring or murdering our brothers and sisters is difficult. We must find peaceful ways to help our brothers and sisters who have engaged in evil thinking to achieve an Attachment to God in their lives.

What Is Evil?

Evil people have the intent to hurt themselves and/to hurt others. These people are detached from God when they decided that they have something to gain and something to accomplish by injuring themselves with illegal drugs and alcohol. They believe that they have something to gain by fantasizing about committing suicide. They believe that they can destroy themselves because God does not have a role to play in their lives.

Evil people want to destroy themselves in front of God by attempting to inflict serious or life-threatening injuries upon others. We all in one way or another understand the consequences of using violence against others to solve problems. God does not tolerate violence from any of us. God does not allow us to use violence to resolve our disputes with anyone. God will remove an evil person from Humanity for expressing the need to use violence to injure or to murder another human being. A murderer many not reappear within Humanity for hundreds of years.

Evil people enjoy making others suffer. There are some of us that like to do things to our loved ones that make them feel pain. A man can make a wife feel pain by abusing illegal drugs and alcohol. An underaged boyfriend might want to make his underaged girlfriend's parents suffer by getting the by violating the girlfriend and by getting her pregnant. A young adult son or daughter might to either attempt to commit suicide or to commit suicide. Students in grammar schools and in high schools could purposely injure their parents by underperforming in their classes. Making people suffer in a way that is intentional is evil and violates our relationships with God.

Some of us seek enjoyment when we make God suffer. Making intentional efforts to inflict pain and suffering upon God is evil. There are many ways that we can make God suffer. Underaged sexual activity between a underaged boy and an underaged girl always hurts God. Abortions hurt God. Causing a miscarriage while God is trying to create a new human life to bring into the world can devastate God. A divorce injures God. God feels pain when a mother must raise her kids as a single mother.

God hurts when a man or a woman is sexually promiscuous with multiple partners with the simulation that a man can get another man pregnant or that a woman can get another woman pregnant. Our reproductive system is part of our relationship with God. God has His Factory of Human Life inside of the body of every woman in the world.

God expects sexual activity to result in the creation and birth of a new human life. God hurts when that does not happen. Sexual acts that happen for reasons other than working with God to create a new human life makes God suffer. This type of behavior is in a special class of evil that causes God to hurt us because of the pain that we cause for Him when we reject a new human life during and after sexual intimacy.

People can achieve a total detachment from God. A human being must be completely detached from God to be classified as being evil. A detachment from God means that a person does not have any communication with God in his or her life. The person completely ignores God throughout his or her life and does not want anything to do with God. These people can think that God can be a nuisance in their lives. They think that there are no realizable penalties for injuring God and/or damaging our brothers and sisters and His Creation.

Evil people sometimes reach out to Satan, or the Devil. God is horrified when He sees His sons and daughters that are trying to find a way to communicate with the Devil. Trying to find the Devil is the best way to hurt God in our lives.

Satan was part of a universal conflict that eventually created the existence of evil. Satan founded the idea of destroying life through murder and suicide. He founded the idea of rallying human beings to hate God and to completely detach themselves from God. God and the Holy Spirit had to fight wars against Satan's oppression against God's Universe which still have not ended. We are still trying to fight and to defeat evil thousands of years after Satan created the ideas of committing evil by committing murder, suicide, and by detaching ourselves from God.

God severely punishes those of us that seek out to have a relationship with Satan. God sends these types of people to the Satanic Dungeon after they die. They can have a permanent audience with the Devil and with the vilest persons that the world has ever seen.

Millions of us are fascinated by substance abuse. The intent to use an illegal drug as part of an addiction is purely evil. God is very hurt when His sons and daughters resort to that type of self-destruction to exist as human beings in God's Universe.

Individuals that create illegal drugs engage in a campaign of evil against Humanity and against the Universe. God, the Holy Spirit, and Humanity will no longer tolerate the existence of this type of evil. We are talking about the evil of substance abuse. We will defeat the demons of substance abuse. We will achieve the creation of a Human Family that will be free of substance abuse. Substance abuse is an evil cancer within our Human Family that we will defeat. This type of evil will face a day when it will disappear from our lives all over the world.

Weapons are evil devices. They are designed and manufactured to give the owner the ability to injure, mortally wound, and/or to kill another human being. Anyone that succeeds in the justification of using a weapon to injure and/or to kill others is completely detached from God. There is absolutely no excuse for using a weapon to kill someone who portrays himself or herself to be evil. We can make that statement. However, mentally ill people can behave in an evil manner and can threaten Humanity. Law enforcement officers feel that they have no choice but to use deadly force. However, we must teach our mentally ill brothers and sisters to respect Humanity. We must teach them to never pose a threat to themselves and/or to others either inside or outside of their homes. Generating justifications to injure and/or to kill others with weapons for any reasons is evil.

There are some people that engage in evil thinking when they enjoy seeing people die. These people feel happiness and fulfillment when they see a murder. These people love to plan a murder. They want to destroy human life out of contempt for God and for Humanity. The murder of other human beings gives them an evil pleasure. Some of them will refuse to submit to psychiatric treatment. Eventually, God must remove these types of people from Humanity by incarcerating them or by giving law enforcement officers the authorizations to shoot and to kill them. Feeling happiness when we see a murder is purely evil.

Developing a hatred toward God is purely evil. We can express a hatred toward God by expressing the long-term intent to injure and/or to kill our brothers and sisters both in this country and all over the world. Wanting to or expressing the need to destroy human life is the best way that we can show a total hatred toward God.

We have no right to be mad at God after He worked with our parents to bring us into the world. We have no right to betray God by showing Him and our brothers and sisters a cruel and evil hatred. We must go to God for forgiveness when we give Him the impression that we want to hate him.

We are in a state of evil when we completely reject any effort to communicate with God in our lives. Our brothers and sisters must work together to find ways to communicate with God. We must be aware of the consequences that await us if we do not want to communicate with God at all. It is evil to refuse to recognize the existence of God in our lives. It is evil to refuse to show love for God by communicating with Him when we need to deal with our problems and concerns. We must show love for God through communication. We must avoid hurting God by being indifferent to everything that He has done to create us and to develop us as part of His Human Family.

Evil is on a mission to destroy human life. Evil encourages us to destroy human life. Evil wants to detach us from humanity by separating our soul from our bodies. Evil believes that it can get away with murder. Evil thinks that God will not bring it to justice. However, the criminal justice system removes evil people that try to destroy life on the face of this planet from Humanity. The criminal justice system detects when a person has engaged in murder and responds by removing that person from his or her freedom within Humanity.

Evil encourages mentally ill people to fantasize about harming themselves and about suicide. God does not tolerate the way that we hurt ourselves with illegal drugs and alcohol. God does not tolerate suicidal thinking. God normally does not allow us to try to destroy ourselves.

We do not have the mechanisms that we need to detect suicidal thinking in students. We must know when our young adults must be given emergency psychiatric treatment if they are either suicidal or homicidal. A suicide is an act of evil that devastates God and that disrupts Humanity. We must do everything that is possible to stop suicides in our young adults and in our adults. Again, suicides are purely evil.

Evil wants to inflict pain and suffering by causing violence and wrongful deaths. Evil enjoys causing physical and emotional pain upon us by using violence and by committing murders in our communities. Evil enjoys our suffering when we see the effects of violence and wrongful deaths all over the world. Evil is so desperate to make feel pain that it will convince its followers to commit suicide and homicide at the same time.

You must hurt yourself to succeed in hurting others. It is unfortunate that God and Humanity must suffer when we all see a murder-suicide. There are not many people out there that are willing to commit suicide and homicide at the same time. However, a murder/suicide is one of the most painful ways to inflict pain and suffering upon God and upon Humanity.

Evil has no role to play within Humanity. Their persistent need to hurt and to injure themselves and others disqualifies them from being a part of Humanity. Humanity cannot support members that want to commit suicide and/or homicide every day. God cannot support elements within Humanity that want to destroy His sons and daughters and/or to commit suicide in the process of committing a murder.

God cannot support sons and daughters that force law enforcement officers and the community to suffer when they force an officer to use a weapon in a show of deadly force. Police officers are not supposed to use their weapons to hurt others. Evil wants police officers to hurt themselves by forcing them to use their weapons to either injure or to kill others. That kind of thing hurts God. It hurts the community. It hurts God.

Atheism is a major symptom of being evil. Evil wants to reject the existence of God. Evil wants to believe that God does not exist at all. Atheists do not think about who created Humanity. Atheists do not think about who creates and develops human life. Atheists do not know who supports human life on this planet. Atheism is a total rejection of the belief of the existence of God that loves us and that wants our suffering to end. The movement of Atheism is a cancer within Humanity that encourages the development and the spread of the doctrines of evil throughout Humanity.

Evil tries to convince others to commit crimes, to hurt and to kill themselves, and to encourage others to kill themselves and to kill others. Evil wants to recruit people that it can convince to work to convince others cause wrongful deaths through suicides and through homicides. This devastates God and completely disrupts Humanity. Evil commits crimes against God when it tries to convince our brothers and sisters to hurt themselves and/or to hurt others.

Evil wants us to use illegal drugs and to commit crimes. Evil wants to see us hurting ourselves through substance abuse. Evil enjoys seeing us hurting ourselves in other ways also. Evil encourages us to commit crimes such as robberies. That is when God loses His sons and daughters to incarceration. We must stop hurting ourselves and to stop hurting others by rejecting temptation so that we will never face incarceration.

Evil completely hates God and hates Humanity. That means that Evil dreams about destroying God's Universe. Evil dreams about mass murder. Evil dreams about torturing God's sons and daughters. Evil cannot stop making efforts to commit crimes and to continue to make efforts to hurt themselves and to hurt others until they face indefinite incarceration.

Our schools can no longer allow evil to come into existence. We must protect the safety and the lives of our students by making sure that their relationships with God will not allow them to embrace evil and/or the doctrines of evil. We cannot allow our children and young adults to graduate from our schools with a defective relationship with God that will encourage them to seek to embrace a career with evil.

We all love our kids and young adults. They must stay with us. They must remain attached to God. They must reject the temptations of evil. We do not want to lose any more of our graduates to incarceration.

How does God Fight Evil?

God tries to warn us about a threat to our lives. We may encounter peer pressure in our schools and/or in our communities where evil might want to recruit us to work for it. These jobs could include drug dealing, money laundering, off the book jobs, mob-related jobs in off the books companies, and enforcers that would hurt people in different ways.

Our relationship with God would normally stop us from considering working in these types of illegal jobs. God wants us to work jobs in which we would earn taxable wages. God does not want us to commit a crime every time that we go to work.

God tries to stop us from joining peer groups, businesses, and companies that would require us to break laws, to hurt ourselves, and/or to hurt others. God fights evil through His individual relationship with each of us. That relationship deters us from committing crimes for the forces of evil in our schools and in our jobs.

God authorizes the incarcerations of persons that commit acts of evil. These are people that believe that they have something to gain by hurting themselves and by hurting others. They believe that God will tolerate their evil intentions indefinitely because of an absence of law enforcement in their lives. However, law enforcement works for God to help Him to battle evil. God guides law enforcement to pursue and to incarcerate evil. That is because law enforcement answers to God and to the Holy Spirit. God and the Holy Spirit will finally prosecute those of us that believe we can make a career out of committing acts of evil in our lives.

God and the Holy Spirit work together with law enforcement agencies to arrest and to incarcerate every person that commits a crime on this planet. God is determined to incarcerate any human beings that disrupt His Human Family by persistently testing His patients by the way that they repeatedly commit crimes. God and the Holy Spirit will not allow anyone to continue to perform acts of evil forever. God and the Holy Spirit will prosecute anyone that they believe has the evil intent to continue to commit violent crimes.

God uses military forces to fight outbreaks of evil that happen all over the world. Evil thinks that it can terrorize the United Nations for an indefinite period. Evil thinks that Humanity can tolerate the pain and suffering of a nation's citizens without using military force to do something about it.

Military forces answer to God and to the Holy Spirit. They exist to meet the challenge of an eruption of conflict that involves an uprising of evil in a foreign nation. It is over for people that want to cause an uprising in a country that threatens Humanity when they must face the Militaries of Humanity. God and the Holy Spirit work with the militaries to kill the uprising of evil as soon as possible.

God gives law enforcement officers the right to use deadly force against those of us that who have the evil intent to inflict life-threatening injuries upon themselves and upon each other while threatening to use a dangerous weapon. God cannot allow a young adult or an adult to follow through with the evil intent to kill a law enforcement officer or members of their family or of the community. Deadly force is a last resort but God must make a split-second decision as to whether to authorize the use of a firearm against a suspect.

God can remove a person that has the evil that expresses the evil intent to hurt himself or herself and/or to hurt others from the face of the Earth. God can work with the Holy Spirit and with the criminal justice system to incarcerate a suspect into a prison or to commit a suspect into a psychiatric facility. This happens when there is indisputable evidence that the suspect has the evil intent to carry out a violent crime against himself and/or against others. God desperately tries to find help for these human beings before it is too late. Too late is after the suspect has attempted suicide and/or homicide. We need to work to prevent our brothers and sisters from facing the consequences of God's anger if they are successful in carrying out a suicide and/or a homicide. God decides how to remove these people from Humanity hopefully before it is too late.

God uses incarceration to torture individuals that have embraced the evil intent to commit crimes against themselves, against Humanity, and against God. God uses unbearable pain and suffering to teach inmates in incarceration about what it means to negotiate an employment contract with evil. Suspects in psychiatric facilities also must understand that their attacks against God's creation will no longer be tolerated. They must remain under psychiatric treatment without committing crimes before God will allow them to rejoin His Human Family.

We need to develop reform programs that will help us to help these types of people about how a relationship with God and a rejection of evil can help them to turn their lives around.

God and the Holy Spirit lead the Militaries of Humanity and the Criminal Justice Systems of Humanity to work to remove evil from the face of the Earth. The war between God and evil has been ongoing for thousands of years. God now leads military forces and law enforcement agencies to work together to make sure that evil that cannot be reformed will be incarcerated or will remain in incarceration.

God tries to negotiate with us before we become part of the forces of evil. God warns our children, our young adults, and our adults about the dangers that they face if they become operatives for the forces of evil. God struggles to make sure that He will not lose more of His children to the forces of evil. There are times when God will lose the battle to save someone from the dangers of the working for the forces of evil. God and the Holy Spirit know that these types of young adults and adults will eventually reside in incarceration or they might become deceased.

God always has the right to take the life of any individual that might pose a threat to His young toddlers, His children, His young adults, and His adults. God takes the life of an operative of the forces of evil when His militaries and criminal justice systems cannot carry out an authorization from God to execute someone. God has the right to cause anyone to die because He is the Supreme Being that created all of us. Therefore, He is the Supreme Beings that can cause us to die just like He brought us into the world with our parents.

God and the Holy Spirit work together to help law enforcement agencies and the criminal justice system to investigate crimes and to find the correct suspect to prosecute. God and the Holy Spirit know the identity of each person that commits a crime. God and the Holy Spirit consider all crimes to be acts of evil. God and the Holy Spirit guide investigators until they will arrive to find exactly who it has been that has committed the crime. God and the Holy Spirit also deal with traffic stops. God and the Holy Spirit ask law enforcement officers to conduct certain traffic stops to make it more possible to find a fugitive or some other type of criminal.

God guides evil to a point where it will fall apart and where it will be incarcerated. God has a special relationship with each member of the forces of evil. God's goal is to convince them to stop committing crimes. God is sorry when the recruits of the forces of evil do not want to negotiate with Him. That is when God taunts these individuals repeatedly so that they will give detectives of local and federal law enforcement agencies the evidence that they will need to present to a grand jury as part of their prosecution. God and the Holy Spirit are always part of the prosecution in mostly all trials that involve suspects that are detached from God and that think that they can get away with committing crimes.

The criminal justice system works for God and for the Holy Spirit. They work to save the lives of suspects every day. However, suspects that are detached from God and that embrace the forces of evil are so dangerous that incarceration in a correctional facility or in long-term psychiatric facility might be the only option for them.

God and the Holy Spirit have different ways to fight the existence of evil in God's Creation. There will be a day when the Forces of God will have finally defeated the forces of evil. There will come a time when we will no longer suffer and when we will no longer make God suffer by embracing evil within God's existence. We will remember our mistakes in the past. We will come to a point where we will cease to respond to the existence of anything that resembles evil in our lives ever again.

Evil Makes God Suffer

God feels pain when He sees violence. God did not create us so that we could generate excuses to hurt each other with violence. We live in God's Universe because God loves us. We have no right to justify an attempt to injure one another. Violence between different groups of people make God very ill. God feels the pain that every wounded person feels. God feels the pain that every dying person feels after he or she has been attacked by violence. God feels the emotional pain that a victim's family goes through after they have lost the life of a loved one because of an act of violence.

Violence that leads to wrongful deaths very much hurt God. It hurts God when schools and workplaces try to find the victim of a violent death and cannot find that person anywhere. It is hard on the kids if a parent or any other family member is murdered. Kids do not deserve the suffering that comes out of violence. We should think about how much pain God endures before we think of solving a problem by using violence to severely injure or to kill someone.

Anyone that contemplates carrying out a suicide devastates God and makes God suffer. The intent to destroy oneself is an evil ideation. God does not allow us to just destroy ourselves. We must be sympathetic to the doctrines of the forces of evil if we stand in front of God and tell Him that we want to destroy ourselves. That we no longer want to be alive in God's Universe. God just cries when He knows that He has lost the struggle to save the life of a suicidal young adult or adult.

Evil promotes the implementation of acts of self-destruction. Evil promotes substance abuse, smoking, the use of firearms, violence, homicide, and suicides.

God wants suicides to end on in His Universe. God is determined to stop that part of evil that makes us think that we can solve our problems by ending our own lives.

Murder has always captivated evil. The idea of destroying a human life captivates evil. God wants to create and to develop human life. Evil wants to destroy human life. Evil wants to destroy God's Human Family. It has gotten to a point with evil that they are willing to surrender to either death or to lifelong incarceration just for the opportunity to murder people. The forces of evil do not understand that they cease to exist from God's Universe when they come that far in their obsession to destroy human life.

Nothing makes God suffer more than an act of murder. God suffers for spouse. God suffers for the kids. God suffers for the relatives. God suffers for the friends of the family. God suffers for the victim's coworkers. Murders will end when God finally defeats evil. God's sons and daughters will no longer resort to those crimes to injure God and to injure Humanity.

Human beings that suffer from substance abuse disorders make God suffer. Substance abusers attack themselves with tobacco, alcohol, and illegal drugs every day. They eventually disintegrate to a point where they are in incarceration, in a psychiatric facility, homeless, or deceased. God does not make the destiny of any child to abuse any kind of illegal drugs. God is very sick when a substance abuser just falls apart. God wants to find ways to help substance abusers. However, many of them are so detached from God that they cannot respond to God at all.

Defeating substance abuse all over the world is part of defeating evil all over the world. God wants the evil and the substance abuse to end in the future so that some of His suffering will end.

God wants to assign every person with a gender for a reason. No one really has the right to be so angry at God for His decision about a person's gender that he or she would want to change his or her gender.

We should understand what a gender disorder is. A man cannot give birth to a baby. A woman cannot impregnate another woman during sexual intimacy between the two women and God. A man is upset with his gender and wants to become a woman so that he can become pregnant and to give birth to a baby.

A woman does not want to be able to achieve pregnancy anymore. She wants to acquire the ability to make another woman pregnant by changing her gender from that of a woman to that of a man.

God punishes us for not being satisfied with our gender. God is hurt and infuriated by anyone that wants to go through a surgical procedure and hormone therapy to change his or her gender. It would be a miracle if a former man that is now a woman could give birth to a baby.

This is the kind of problem that makes God suffer.

Causing a miscarriage by having an abortion deeply hurts God. God wants to create human life inside of His Factory of Human Life inside of a woman's body. God expects that He will be able to assemble a new human life inside of His Factory of Human Life without a problem. He believes that the baby will be born in a few months.

God is devastated when a medical doctor causes a woman to have a miscarriage to terminate a pregnancy. God and only the God that is creating the human life inside of His Factory of Human Life can terminate a pregnancy by causing a miscarriage. We do not build a human life inside of a woman. God builds a human life inside of a woman. Therefore, God is the Supreme Being that decides whether the pregnancy will end in a miscarriage. We have no right to interfere with God's efforts to assemble a new human life inside of His Factory of Human Life. We must understand that.

It hurts God when a woman pays a fee to a doctor so that the doctor can cause her to have a miscarriage. We have no right to be paid to destroy God efforts to create a new human life in His Factory of Human Life. We will stop making God suffer when stop rejecting His gift of a new human life that will come to us at the at the time of the baby's birth.

We must think about how precious a baby is when we think about an abortion. We must think about making God suffer during an abortion. We must think about what really must gain by paying that doctor to cause that miscarriage.

Attempting to impregnate a member of the same gender can hurt God. Same-gendered relationships are not evil. Participants in same-gendered relationship can have a homosexual partner. However, we must understand that sexual activity is supposed to lead to a pregnancy and the birth of a new human life. A man cannot impregnate a man in a same-gendered relationship. A woman cannot impregnate a woman in a same-gendered relationship. We do not know how God feels about same-gendered sexual activity. However, God has created malicious sexually transmitted diseases that can infect anyone of us. God can hurt us if we hurt Him with our sexual behaviors. We have to understand how to avoid high-risk sexual behaviors so that we can minimize our chances of becoming infected.

How Does Humanity Create Evil?

Human beings believe that they have something to gain by hurting themselves and/or by hurting others. We develop the mentality using illegal drugs with a peer in high school is a good thing. We can believe that underage smoking with peers is a good thing. We can come to believe that underage drinking is a good thing.

Our peers can put pressure on us to hurt ourselves. They then can put pressure on us to hurt others. They may ask us to deal drugs. They may ask us to handle a weapon. They might ask us to work off the books. They might encourage us to succumb to substance abuse. They might convince us to commit a crime.

Peer pressure is the number one stressor that convinces children and young adults to become a threat to themselves and/or a threat to others. They can possibly become fascinated by the idea of having something to gain by hurting God when we gain something by hurting others.

The main underlying motive that we must hurt God and to hurt others is to be paid to do it. The payment, in most cases, is off the books. God is very hurt when we attempt to obtain a firearm. The only reasonable purpose for using a firearm is to use it to injure or to kill someone else.

The root of all evil as far as Humanity is concerned is money. Most of crimes involve the acquisition of cash. Most of our population will do something to hurt themselves and/or to hurt others if they were offered cash to do it. Many people would have no problem in hurting others in return for a cash payment. The IRS would not be involved in your business if you would not take credit cards.

The evil that exists within Humanity must do with our willingness to have something to gain by hurting ourselves, by hurting our brothers and sisters, and/or by committing crimes in exchange for a cash payment or cash payments in return for hurting God and for hurting Humanity.

Evil within Humanity makes us think that we can benefit by hurting ourselves and/or hurting others by getting paid for hurting God and for hurting Humanity. We automatically detach ourselves from God and become incapacitated with a mental illness when we think about getting paid to hurt God, to hurt ourselves, and to hurt others. This constitutes a crime or crimes. That means that we will eventually be arrested for thinking that we can get away with getting paid for committing crimes repeatedly without end.

Evil tries to convince us to ignore God and to have nothing to do with God. Evil tries to convince us that God does not exist in our lives. Evil tries to convince us that we should have nothing to do with God in our lives. Evil encourages us to achieve a full and complete detachment from the existence of God in our lives.

Evil wants us to reject any effort that God and/or the Holy Spirit will make to try to reach us. Evil would want us to negotiate with those of us that feel that we have something to gain by injuring and destroying human life and other parts of God's creation. Evil attempts to make us believe that we can escape prosecution, discipline, and God's justice when evil attempts to convince us that injuring and destroying human life is necessary because God and Humanity deserve to feel that pain. Evil gives all of us a mandate to work together to make God and Humanity suffer. Evil convinces us that we have much to gain by working together to injure and to destroy human life even if it means that we will disappear.

Evil discourages us from praying and from and from communicating with God. Evil thinks that it is against the best interests of Humanity to communicate with God at all. Evil wants us to reject the attempts that God will make to help us to hear His voice. Evil will want us to reject any influence that God has over our lives every day of the year.

Refusing to communicate with God is part of the goal of evil to detach us from our relationships with God. Evil does not want to see us communicating with God in anyway. Evil teaches us to solve our problems without relying on God's intervention in our lives to help us to do it. Evil teaches us that we can solve our problems by using violence and hatred against our brothers and sisters to accomplish our goals of settling our problems with them.

Refusing to attempt to communicate with God is part of the doctrine of the forces of evil. The forces of evil do not want us to communicate with God at all. The forces of evil want us to ignore God. The forces of evil want to promote atheism in us so that we will live our lives under the psychosis that God does not exist and that God has nothing to do with how He created us and how He developed us in our lives.

Evil does not want to give God any credit for what He does to sustain our existence on this Planet Earth. Evil wants to turn us against God because He creates, develops, and maintains all human and nonhuman life. Evil cannot coexist in the same Universe that God has created for all of us.

Evil seeks to obstruct and to prevent the conception and the development of all human life. Evil encourages us to use birth control devices to frustrate and to prevent God from creating human life during sexual intimacy between a man and a woman. Evil tempts our children and young adults to use self-destructive substances such as illegal drugs, alcohol, and tobacco. Evil want us to have to capacity to injure and/or to destroy human life by encouraging us to possess firearms and explosives.

Evil encourages us to commit crimes. Evil wants us to break the Laws of God and to break the Laws of God and to break the Laws of Humanity. Evil wants us to be in trouble with law enforcement agencies by encouraging us to want to hurt ourselves and to hurt others during the commissions of crimes. Evil wants all of us to commit crimes. Evil wants all of us to make Humanity and God to suffer when we work to commit crimes.

Evil encourages the infliction of pain and suffering upon others. Evil enjoys what they have done to make families suffer and to make family members cry. Evil can commit an act of violence that could kill a family member. Evil likes to encourage us to make our peers, family members, and members of our community to suffer. Evil believes that God, the Holy Spirit, and Humanity will not bring them to justice for causing us to suffer.

Evil falls away from Humanity and from God to justify its efforts to injure and to destroy human life. Evil likes to receive cash compensation to justify its efforts to inflict pain and suffering upon others. Evil teaches us that the destruction of human life is what God and what Humanity deserve for the way that God has ruined the Universe.

Evil might have a following on this planet because so many people suffer every day that our brothers and sisters need to blame someone like God for the way that they struggle with pain every day. Evil has no right to try to discipline God for what it feels that God does to injure Humanity. Evil is part of the reasons why Humanity suffers because of the way that Humanity embraces evil ideologies.

Evil believes that certain people deserve pain and suffering for no justifiable reason. Everyone that wants to injure life or to destroy life has no justifiable motive to work to try to injure or to participate in the destruction of God's Universe.

God has problems with evil. Evil has problems with God. Evil believes that certain persons deserve pain and suffering for no justifiable reasons. God wants to destroy evil when He detects that evil wants to destroy life for no justifiable reasons. God will not tolerate hatred and evil thoughts that encourage evil to injure and to destroy human beings. God will not tolerate persistent and indefinite efforts to injure and to destroy human life. God will punish anyone that believes that he or she can be found to be legally justified when he, she, and/or they decide to injure or to kill another human being.

Evil believes that God deserves to face the death and destruction of human life all over the universe. Evil believes that God is too weak to challenge its efforts to make His Universe disintegrate by consistently destroying human life. Their goal is to leave God without any human life that would love Him at all. Evil only wants evil persons to continue to inhabit the Universe. Evil wants to make God suffer every day by persistently using violence, suicides, and murders to send God into a deep depression.

This attitude will not intimidate God into stopping His efforts to be the Supreme Creator of Human Life. He will never allow evil to prevent Him from continuing to work with His loving adults that want to achieve parenthood from receiving new human lives from Him. God will ultimately dissolve evil and will make it disappear from His Universe.

The main purpose of evil is to make God suffer. Evil makes God suffer by inflicting emotional and physical injuries upon His Sons and Daughters. Evil knows that inflicting pain and suffering to God's children is the most powerful way to make Him suffer. Humanity, however, will not continue to tolerate any campaigns that will allow evil to have the ability to hurt our brothers and sisters without being removed from Humanity and without facing punishment for the way that they have been hurting God.

Evil feels that self-inflicted violence and violence that is used to hurt others is the best way to retaliate against God and to hurt God for the way that He has failed Humanity in His Life. We know that God is not perfect. However, we have no right to work to discipline God by trying to injure and/or to destroy human life to punish Him for what we think that He has done wrong with Humanity. God will incarcerate anyone that believes that He deserves the infliction of pain and suffering upon our brothers and sisters for His mistakes and for imperfections that exist in His Universe. God is working with the problems in His Universe. He is trying to make progress in trying to make His Universe as perfect as it can be. We must be patient with God while He is in the process of determining how to correct the problems that He has with His Creation. However, we are no one to punish God for what we think are imperfections in His existence and in the Existence of Humanity.

Evil does not understand that God and the Holy Spirit work together to make evil disappear from God's Universe as soon as they detect the threat that evil poses to God Creation and to God's ability to create and to maintain human life in His Universe. God and the Holy Spirit are determined to fight the existence of evil until it finally disappears. God and the Holy Spirit will also find ways to stop the creation of evil in God's Universe. God and the Holy Spirit will learn how to make sure that our children and young adults will understand that they must love God. Our children and young adults will understand that they cannot follow the will of evil to work to destroy God and to destroy human life.

Why Does Humanity Create Evil?

Members of our Human Family are very angry when they face poverty, unemployment, and starvation.

Every person is different. We all have our own problems. However, God has different ways of punishing us for what we have done wrong in this life and for what we have done wrong in our past life. God looks at our improvement from the way that we ruined our lives in a previous life. God determines what we deserve in this life after He has reincarnated us. We can rise above poverty, starvation, and unemployment. The problem is that we must prove to God and to the Holy Spirit that we deserve that.

Retaliating against God for our punishment from a previous life and from this life is illegal. We make things worse for ourselves by using violence and self-inflicted injuries to attempt to punish God for what He has done to us. We have no right to punish God for any decisions that He has made that concern our lives. We answer to God. However, we do not tell Him what to do. We can ask him nicely to help us to improve our standard of living. But we cannot just start punishing Him by committing crimes and acts of violence to punish Him if we disagree with what He decides for us. We should negotiate with God through prayer and through patience so that He can help us to save the lives of our families, our kids, and others that love us.

We should understand that there are certain sexual lifestyles and sexual behaviors that deeply offend God. We can become infected with a sexually transmitted disease when we make him extremely mad at us because of the way that we are using our sexuality with other partners. God wants us to understand that a man cannot make another man pregnant. A woman cannot make another woman pregnant.

God does not want to see a man that will try to make fifteen men pregnant in the timeframe of two years. God cannot understand why a woman would want to get thirteen women pregnant in the timeframe of two years. God is offended by this type of promiscuity. This kind of problem leads to the transmission of sexually transmitted diseases and possibly to an incurable life-threatening illness like pneumonia. We cannot punish God for being infected with a sexually transmitted disease by continuing to infect other partners with the illness even though we might know that we are infected or we might be infected and would not care enough to be tested to know for sure whether we are infected until it is too late. We cannot discipline God in this manner for offending Him with our sexual behaviors.

We can be angry at God because we believe that He has done nothing to help us to help us with our hardships at home and at work. We must pray when we are suffering when this happens. We cannot form conspiracies against God because we are having a hard time with our personal problems such as with our marriage or in our job.

We should approach our problems in a way that is constructive. We do not accomplish anything by kicking God out of our lives and by solving problems by being destructive while we do so. We cannot solve problems through violence. We must solve problems by using peaceful confrontation. We must go to God through peaceful confrontation. We must believe that we God and the Holy Spirit can work together to helps us to lead better lives and to help us to understand what we all must do to solve our problems in life. We cannot reject God or to blame God for our problems. God and the Holy Spirit love us and they will help us to do whatever it takes to solve our problems and to lead a constructive life.

God loves all of us despite our sexual orientation. God is a factory of human and nonhuman life. God is sad when one of His young adults decides that he or she will not be achieving parenthood. Millions of people can deeply hurt God by refusing to work with a member of the opposite gender and with God to create and to develop a new human life or new human lives.

God's mission is to create human life with each one of His adults. It is sad when God sees the development of a young adult into adulthood without the intent to achieve parenthood. This limits the number of children that will exist as part of God's Human Family. It will limit the number of human beings that he will be able to create in the future. He is sad when millions of us take the happiness that God shares with us away from Him for no justifiable reason.

That is part of the reason why sexually transmitted diseases exist. God will tolerate an adult's decision to refuse to achieve parenthood. However, there are many sexual behaviors that hurt God that He cannot tolerate on top of that decision to refuse to be a parent. God is angry when He authorizes an infection of a sexually transmitted disease.

We should be respectful of God's feeling whether we want to work with a spouse of the opposite gender and with God to create and to give birth to a new human life.

Many of us are mad at God because we cannot find jobs. God does everything that He can to develop us to be good students. God does everything to give us the skills that we will need to obtain and to perform in a job after graduating from either a high school or a college.

What happens if we graduate from a high school and/or a college and cannot find a job? Who do we blame for that? Many of us would blame God for this problem. We wonder where God exists if we have gotten our education and our dream job does not want to exist.

This is a very serious and universal problem. We need to grow up. We cannot be crybabies when it comes to what we can do to solve this problem by working with God. This problem exists. That does not make it justified to show hatred or to dream about hurting God. We will be able to produce as many jobs as will be needed in the future. God and the Holy Spirit will work with the Governments of Humanity to make sure that we will be able to meet the demand for jobs. We must keep hoping and praying that God will solve this problem for us. We must pray to God out of love. We must not have hateful thoughts about hurting God and Humanity because we have not been able to find solutions to these problems completely yet.

Some of us have problems in retaining relationships with members of the opposite gender. God promotes relationships between members of the opposite gender that have the potential to work with Him to result in the conception and birth of a new human life.

God wants to be a part of the therapy that married couples receive when they are having an episode that might cause them to separate and/or to become divorced. God wants a married husband and a married wife to love each other and to love and to develop their children for the rest of their lives. God wants to work with parents to show love for them and for their children. God wants to stimulate the love within a marriage. However, having hateful thoughts about God because a marriage is disintegrating is an insult to God. Our married couples must understand that God is there to help a marriage to succeed. God is not there to be eligible for punishment and hatred when He offers to work with a married couple to help them to solve their problems. They cannot blame God for their problems.

Some of us can believe that we can make a career out of dealing drugs and by working in off-the-books jobs.

God works with educators to prepare our graduates to function in legal jobs and occupations. God does not want to think that our schools believe that they graduate students to be working for gangs and for the mob. God is very upset when our schools graduate students that can only try to find employment in illegal jobs. God and the Holy Spirit know that is a major problem. God and the Holy Spirit know that many of our students are left out in the cold without jobs.

However, hating God for this problem only makes it more difficult for God and for the Holy Spirit to understand how to deal with it. We cannot blame this endless problem with unemployment on them. We really want to rely on God and the Holy Spirit to help us to finally solve these problems while not turning to a hateful intent to hurt God and the Holy Spirit before we solve these problems.

Humanity is very angry over our endless suffering. Do we, as human beings, deserve to exist in an endless state of suffering? Do we have the right to have hateful thoughts about God because we endure suffering on off and on? Only God knows why we suffer. We will continue to suffer if our evil intentions consider existing within Humanity. God can only end our suffering if we agree to work with Him and with the Holy Spirit to end His suffering.

Suffering is a two-way street for God and for us. God has human emotions just like we have human emotions. He suffers just as much as we suffer. He does not want to punish us for our suffering. We should not want to punish him for His suffering.

We should work with God and with the Holy Spirit to end our suffering and the suffering of God and of the Holy Spirit. We can do that by showing love for God and for the Holy Spirit. We cannot do that by having the intent to hate God and to make Him suffer by injuring and destroying human life.

The end of our suffering will be a collective effort between God, the Holy Spirit, and all our brothers and sisters. We must stop showing hatred toward God to compensate for the problems that we have here on this planet with our existence.

There is no excuse for sustaining a human race that allows the suffering of homelessness to continue without working with God to do something to stop it from continuing to happen. We can understand why we are so angry at God when He does not know how to find homes for our homeless brothers and sisters. We suffer when we cannot work with God and with the Holy Spirit to find homes for our homeless brothers and sisters. We can spend billions of dollars on weapons for our military. Why can we not spend ten million dollars a year to help our starving homeless people to have somewhere to live? Can God continue to tolerate this? Can we continue to blame God for this problem?

We must start working with God to solve the problems that cause homelessness. We can do that out of love for God, for the Holy Spirit, and for Humanity. We have no right to hate God or to want to punish God before we are successful in defeating homelessness for all our brothers and sisters of Humanity.

Can we point the finger at God and blame Him for the sudden loss of the life of a loved one such as a young adult, a parent, or a child? We do not know who to blame for a wrongful death. That is when we lose a loved one to death without the authorization of God. Losing a family member or a loved one to a wrongful death is absolutely one of the most painful disasters that we could ever experience in our relationships with God.

We cannot blame God for wrongful deaths. We cannot come to hate God because of a wrongful death. A wrongful death is the product of a mentally ill individual that chooses to devastate Humanity by killing someone as part of a total detachment from God. Deaths that happen do to accidents are not as painful as a wrongful death that should do with a suicide or a murder.

We will solve the problems with wrongful deaths by loving God by being patient with Him. We will work with Him and with the Holy Spirit to teach our kids and young adults that suicidal behaviors and homicidal behaviors are to be rejected because of the way that they hurt God and because of the way that they hurt Humanity. There will come a time when our students will have a strong relationship with God that will simply tell them the truth. Do not try to hurt yourself and do not try to hurt others. Our children and young adults will come to respect those messages from God. That is when we will begin repairing the damage that evil has caused in our relationship with God.

People with mental illness are human beings. God loves them. God tries hard to keep people that have mental illness to live with their families. God does not want people with mental illness to be incarcerated in a long-term psychiatric facility or in a prison. God wants people with psychiatric disorders to enjoy their freedom as they will live with their families that will care for them.

Does God cause mentally ill people to have a complete detachment from Him? Is this complete detachment from God the reason why patients with mental illness fantasize about hurting themselves and/or like hurting others? Is the community mad at God when a disabled person hurts the community? Is the community outraged when law enforcement officers must use deadly force against a mentally ill person that is living at home with his family?

God really loses all control and influence over a mentally ill young adult or adult when they become completely detached from God. These types of people want to commit crimes and want to kill and to destroy human life.

They need psychiatric care. However, it may be too little and too late by the time that people realize that this person needs immediate psychiatric care. A mentally ill person might have qualified for life in incarceration for the rest of his or her life.

God wants all individuals that are detached from Him to enjoy the benefit of religious counseling, psychiatric treatment, and psychotherapy. God wants to love people with mental illness. God wants to make sure that the behaviors of people with mental illness will not constitute a threat to themselves or to other members of their community. God is always there to help patients that need psychiatric treatment. Psychiatrists have no right to obstruct the way that a patient will try to find God and to communicate with God to recover from their illness and to find ways to start to function normally.

Members of God's Human Community hurt when they see severely disabled people. It is sad. It hurts us. We want to do whatever we can to help people with disabilities to live normal lives. Sometimes, we can be very mad at God because there are so many disabled people within our communities that cannot function normally and that cannot work. We sometimes want to punish God for that. However, we will be working with God and with the Holy Spirit do create and to manufacture treatments that will help peoples with disabilities to lead more fulfilling lives and to possibly be able to work and to maintain relationships in their lives.

God suffers just as much as we suffer when it comes to dealing with disabled people and with severely disabled people. We wish that we could do more for them. We cannot look at God as a demon in this crisis. We must look to God as a supervisor that will help us and the Holy Spirit to eventually phase out and end disabilities throughout the human community.

We must be patient with God when it comes to ending human disabilities on this planet. We cannot hate God because there are many people with disabilities out there. We just must pray to God that we will see a day when disabilities will be treatable and curable.

We must stop having evil thoughts about God because of this problem. God loves all of us. There will be a day in the future when we will work with God for all of us to be fully functional.

Why does God allow death and destruction during and after natural disasters? Why does God allow tens of thousands of homes to be destroyed by tornados or by hurricanes?

We have legitimate grievances against God when we think about natural disasters. However, these natural disasters happen for a reason. We must understand that God manages nature. Storms are part of the way that God manages nature. We do not know why God creates storms. God does know why He creates storms.

God supports us on this planet. We should understand that nature does things that help God to create and to support human life. God does not want nature to drop bombs on individual communities all the time. However, it could be worse if those storms would not come into existence. Only God understands why that is true. We should trust God when He makes decisions about nature and about how nature will develop storms and periods of sunshine that will work together to create and to maintain all human and nonhuman life.

There are many people that believe that they can exist without a relationship with God. God provides us with all our drinking water, our food, our power, our oil, our natural gas, our breathing oxygen, our trees, and our power in our power plants.

It is rude for any of us to think that we can walk around without a relationship with God if He is responsible for maintaining our lives and our existence in His Universe. A detachment from God can make us believe that we can avoid being punished when we have the malicious intent to hurt others. A detachment from God can make us believe that we can commit any crime in the world without having to face the criminal justice system and the anger of God.

A detachment from God can make people think that they are immune from prosecution and from incarceration. God cannot really stop a person from committing crimes if the person has established a total detachment from Him. God can try to get through to that detached person in a final desperate effort to save him or her from incarceration. However, a person must face the criminal justice system without the help of God if the person does not want God to be part of his or her life at all. This type of detachment leads to the malicious intent to injure people during the commission of a crime. It leads him or her to be a threat to himself and/or a threat to others.

God Does Not Create Evil

God loves us from the time that we come into existence in God's Factory of Human Life Inside of woman's body after conception. Why would God want to create evil to try to injure and/or to destroy His Own Universe? Evil incompatible with the existence of God and is incompatible with the existence of Humanity.

We cannot say that God creates evil every time that something that is horrible happens to Humanity. Some people are so detached from God that their efforts to destruct human life disrupt the entire human family. We cannot blame God for genocide or terrorism.

This is a mentally ill human family. Our brothers and sisters are emotionally disturbed when they believe that God and our fellow brothers and sisters around the world will tolerate the effort to destroy human life.

The hatred of human life comes from the development of evil. This development of evil does not come from God at all. God would program one of His babies to grow up with the intent to destroy human life on the behalf of God. Why would God create human lives that would be destined to destroy human life all over the world? What motive would God have to do such a thing?

God wants to preserve human life. God does not want to generate excuses to destroy human life. God does not manufacture evil people that are on a mission to devastate Humanity by the way that they would try to destroy human life.

God tries to destroy evil. It hurts to remove a human being from His Human Family. Some of God's sons and daughters are so detached from Him and are so determined to injure and to destroy human life that He must physically remove them from Humanity. That is the way that God deals with evil. God only creates beautiful and wonderful babies. They do not have the intent to hurt anyone. They want to love their family members and other kids in daycare centers. God still does not know why so many of them get sick with psychiatric disorders that makes it hard for them to succeed in schools and in jobs. We must work with God to find the goodness in people. We cannot blame the existence of evil on God. We will someday live in an evil-free universe.

God shows nothing but love for newborn babies and for toddlers. God prepares babies and toddlers to be wonderful participants in God's Human Family. God tries to teach babies and toddlers how to love Him and how to love everyone that interacts with them. God in no way wants to prepare a baby to become evil or to commit evil at some future point in the baby's life.

Children are precious to God. God loves children. God does not train children to be evil. God does not expect certain children to become evil. God wants to show our children how to love their parents, their siblings, their teachers and fellow students, and how to love God. God plays an important role in the lives of our children. God deserves to receive love from His kids. God wants His kids to show nothing but love for Him and for everyone one else who try to develop them.

It is important to teach kids about the right way to love God. Kids must understand that God needs to love them. They must understand that they need to love God. That is how God prevents kids from becoming human beings that resort to becoming evil to survive in God's Universe.

God cannot envision the development of a criminal in the upbringing of His toddlers. God will not show toddlers how to commit crimes. God will not encourage His toddlers to fantasize about committing crimes. God would not assign a toddler's destiny to be one of becoming a substance abuser or a criminal. God tries to stop toddlers from becoming evil. God does not want to toddlers to grow into children and young adults with the attitude that the existence of evil is His fault and that Humanity must punish God for it.

We must work with God to stop the development of evil right from the time that our babies are born. We can help our babies and toddlers to develop an Attachment to God that will stay with them for the rest of their lives. We can teach our toddlers and kids to pray to God and to communicate with God so that they will not believe that they must punish God by becoming evil. Our toddlers and children must understand that God is sorry for what goes wrong in our lives. God cries when something goes wrong in our lives. Our kids and young adults must know that this is not an excuse to generate a hatred toward God. This is not a justification of forming a sympathy for evil. This is not a valid reason to generate the energy to want to hurt God and to hurt Humanity by fantasizing to commit acts of evil such as violence and substance abuse.

We must teach our kids and young adults that God is the Supreme Being that created us and brought us into the world. He deserves love from us. We need to forgive God when He cannot help us to prevent problems and tragedies in our lives. We need to teach our kids and young adults to work with God and with the Holy Spirit to repair the damage that tragedies cause in our lives. God and the Holy Spirit are there to help us to recover from evil. They are not there to encourage us to become evil and to achieve incarceration because of the way that we will come to hate God.

God does everything that He can to stop the development of evil in children and young adults. He needs more help from parents, educators, psychiatrists, and psychotherapists. We do not want our kids to achieve incarceration later in their lives because we did not steer them back into the direction of goodness when they were toddlers and children.

Psychiatrists and psychotherapists must work together with educators and families of young children that pose a threat to themselves and a threat to others by seaming to have an interest in embracing the doctrines of evil. That means that their development causes them to emerge as adults that want to commit crimes, to hurt themselves, and/or to hurt others.

God and the Holy Spirit will no longer continue to tolerate this. We will have to work with God and with the Holy Spirit to teach toddlers, children, and young adults to always communicate with God and to never fall away from God. We must teach our students that God will not tolerate our descent into evil. We must work with God to stop all our kids and young adults from believing the misconception that evil has more to offer them than God can offer them. Our children and young adults will understand that this is entirely not true.

We need to convert all our public and private schools into Temples of God to fight evil by teaching all students as equals that have been created in the Image and Likeness of God. We will no longer allow the forces of evil to attempt to recruit our students for attempting to destroy ourselves and/or for destroying others. God's spirit lives in all our schools. God fights evil by existing and influencing every school in the world. God is going directly to our students to fight evil by promising them how much He can offer them in their lives.

God cries very much when He loses one of His sons or daughters to incarceration. It is a tragedy that happens to God every day of His life. God does not create human life to be destined to achieve incarceration in a prison, correctional facility, and/or in a psychiatric facility. God tries very hard to sustain all His children as free human beings that can be part of His Human Family for the rest of their lives. God wants all His children to live in a home with their partners and families. God in no way wants any of His children to live in a state of hopelessness and despair in places of incarceration.

Places of incarceration are where evil people are finally removed from God's Human Family. They face incarceration so that they can no longer pose a threat to themselves and/or to others. They are in incarceration because they have rejected God and have attempted to operate with the forces of evil to injure and to destroy human life. They have rejected every effort that God has made to reform them and to help them to understand that He and Humanity do not want to lose them to incarceration. God cries when His efforts to save one of His children's lives from incarceration and from joining the forces of evil completely fail. This, however, does not mean that God creates evil. This means that God is still trying to understand why His Universe is still defective and why it allows evil to erupt and then to disappear into incarceration.

Evil has no purpose to exist in God's Universe. God persistently tries to identify and to remove and/or destroy evil. God is very hurt when He must remove one of His human beings from His Human Family and to watch him or her waste away in incarceration. We will work with God until we finally stop this cycle of evil that destroys God's life and that destroys our lives.

A loving and forgiving God will teach His young children in grammar schools and His young adults in high schools to love all our brothers and sisters of Humanity and to reject participation in the forces of evil. A loving God will promise to maintain our students in a lifetime of happiness if they choose to love Him. God wants His young adults to understand the benefits that await them if they work with Him to be successful in their efforts to achieve parenthood. God helps them to understand the beautiful marriage that awaits them after they graduate from high school and from college. God tries to help them to understand what they must gain by participating in a marriage and in the development of human life.

God is sad when His some of His sons and daughters refuse to have an interest in achieving marriage and parenthood. God is very sad when He sees His sons and daughters using violence against each other to solve their problems. God is very sad when He must witness murders and suicides.

We cannot blame God for outbreaks of evil with God's Human Family. God has been trying to destroy evil without destroying Humanity for thousands of years. God needs to find a way to destroy evil without destroying any and every human life in the Universe. God is trying to do everything that He can to remove evil from His Universe without destroying parts of Himself.

God does not tolerate substance abuse when evil tries to convince us to use illegal drugs in a way that will benefit us. God cannot tolerate the abuse of illegal drugs by children and young adults. God sees substance abuse as a cancer within His Universe. God is trying so hard to help Humanity to reject the evils of substance abuse. God cannot believe that he loses the war against evil substances every day and all over the world. How could illegal drugs which are lifeless powders and fluids, defeat God's efforts to rescue His Children from self-destruction when these powders and fluids do not even exist as living beings? God is always suffering over the way that we hurt ourselves with illegal drugs.

God will defeat the demons of substance abuse. God will no longer tolerate substance abuse on this planet. God remove illegal substances from the reach of all of us and from the reach of all our children. God will teach our toddlers and children about the dangers of substance abuse in every school in the world. God will teach our kids and young adults that they must respond to His love by rejecting illegal drugs. Our kids and young adults will fulfill God's will and will no longer use illegal drugs to think that they can accomplish something by doing so.

God will achieve a final happiness and victory over substance abuse all over the world. God will work with us to do what it takes to put an end to His suffering over the way that we hurt ourselves and over the way that we hurt others with illegal drugs and illegal substances.

God will teach our toddlers, kids, and young adults to show compassion, sympathy, and love for our brothers and sisters whose lives have been ruined by the evil intent of others to hurt them and to hurt their loved ones. God will teach our students that they cannot just blame Him for an outbreak of evil within His Human Family. There are times when something will go wrong with human beings that want to injure and to destroy human life because they want to believe that committing evil acts and betraying God are the right things to do.

We must teach our kids and toddlers to embrace God and the Holy Spirit and to reject evil. Our kids need to reject substance abuse, violence, sexual abuses, a detachment from God, crimes, and evil that encourages us to hurt ourselves and/or to hurt others. Our kids and young adults are much more likely to embrace God and to reject the forces of evil if they are taught to do so while they are students in preschools and in grammar schools.

We must teach our kids to reject evil at an early age so that God will have the best possible chance to save their lives from attacks by evil for the rest of their lives. We must teach our kids to never negotiate with anyone to negotiate with evil to reject God. Our kids must trust the love and affection of God when they pray to Him and welcome His guidance for them.

God promotes the creation and the development of human life. Evil seeks to prevent the creation of human life. Evil seeks to destroy human life.

God and evil have been fighting against each other for thousands of years. The problem for God is that we are all part of God. It is impossible for God to destroy Part of Himself. How does God destroy evil without destroying part of who He is? We cannot understand the answers to those questions because we are not God. We are just part of God.

God is trying to understand how to end this war between the Forces of Good and the forces of evil. We can only hope and pray that we will see the end of the operations of evil in our lifetimes. We should do everything that we can to break evil apart so that God can just basically deactivate it. We will come to a point in our history when we will finally achieve salvation by collectively destroying evil by making a universal effort to destroy it by making a universal effort to reject evil in our lives and in all the lives of our brothers and sisters.

God, the Holy Spirit, and Humanity will defeat evil. We will fall back into the goodness and Divine Love of God who is Our Loving Creator. We should join in God's efforts to rid His existence from the suffering that He is used to feeling as He manages the Universe every day.

God wants us to understand why evil develops in His Universe. This is a very basic concept. We want to hurt God because we are mad at Him for various reasons.

Maybe we live in poverty. Maybe we have a mental illness. Maybe we have a disability. Maybe we cannot work. Maybe we cannot maintain a relationship with either a partner of the same gender or of the opposite gender.

Sometimes we are raised to reject God because others encourage us to use illegal drugs, alcohol, and firearms. Sometimes we are trained to ignore God in our lives. Sometimes people give us the impression that we can commit crimes and that we can commit acts of violence without facing the penalties of the criminal justice system.

We must stop giving our children and young adults the impression that they can get away with rejecting God. They think that they can commit crimes. They think that they can use violence without facing punishment for it. They think that they can function without enjoying the love of a relationship with God in their lives.

God must continue to work with Humanity and the Holy Spirit to try to understand why His human beings are so angry at Him. We must work with God to help our brothers and sisters to feel like forgiving God even if we believe that we would have a legitimate grievance against Him. We must be as forgiving of God as He is forgiving of us. That is the way that we will work with God and with the Holy Spirit to finally defeat evil.

God gives people multiple chances to finally love God and to be a constructive part of Humanity through reincarnation. God kills those of us that no longer have a purpose to exist on this planet. He then takes that person's soul and attaches it to the body of a new human life. The soul and the new body are born. Then no one remembers just how badly the person destroyed himself or herself in a previous life. That person's soul and new body must grow up all over again with different parents and with different friends. Therefore, reincarnation exists.

Even the most violent criminals get a second chance or a third chance through reincarnation. God does this because He does not want any of His Sons and Daughters to exist in a state incarceration or with a chronic disability for the rest of their lives. Reincarnation is a way that God finally tries to forgive us for destroying ourselves by being an ally of evil. They hopefully will be more successful in impressing God during the first reincarnation or through the second reincarnation into a new life.

Conclusion

God does not create evil. God promotes the conception and the development of all human and nonhuman life. Evil seeks to destroy all human life. Evil seeks to prevent and/or to destruct the creation of human life. Evil wants to cause deaths that are not authorized by God all over the world.

God does not create life so that it can destroy itself. God creates human life because He wants to feel the love and affection of His sons and daughters. God wants to create human life because He wants all of us to exchange love and affection with Him.

Evil does not understand that it cannot destroy us because we are Part of God. Evil does not understand what God can do to it for carrying out the intent to prevent the creation of human life and from trying to injure and to destroy human life. God has nothing to do with the way that evil recruits human beings to carry out hatred for Him by seeking to injure and to destroy human life.

Evil develops as a defect in God's Universe. Do our brothers and sisters understand what they are doing when they seek to injure or to destroy the lives of God's sons and daughters? What does evil come to think that it will gain by hurting God by trying to injure and to destroy human life?

God removes evil from His Universe every day. However, people in prison are Part of God. God does not want His sons and daughters to waste away in incarceration. God envisions babies to grow us to become wonderful citizens of God Human Family.

God has been fighting evil for thousands of years. God is still trying to understand what He is doing right and what He is doing wrong. God wants to stop wrongful deaths. God wants to stop murder. God wants to stop human suffering. The question for us is how we are going to help God to achieve this goal.

God tries to do everything that He can to delete evil from His Universe. God tries to teach toddlers and children about the benefits of loving Him and for being good persons who will love Him. God tries to guide His young adults to steer them away from committing crimes, injuring themselves and others, and trying to kill themselves and others.

God tries to destroy evil by building a personal and individual relationship with all His sons and daughters from the time that they are born and the throughout their lives. God hopes that His personal relationships with us will convince us to reject evil and will help us to see the benefits of embracing Our Loving Supreme Being by doing good things for Humanity.

God forgives us if we are sorry for cooperating with the forces of evil and for trying to fulfill the desires of evil. God can forgive us for trying to carry out efforts to injure and to destroy life if we show remorse for what we have done. We must then reject evil in our lives. We must try to rebuild our shattered relationships with God. We must help others to learn from our mistakes in the way that we have dealt with evil. We must teach our peers, children, and young adults to reject evil as part of the way that we will reach out to God for forgiveness.

Reincarnation is the final attempt that God makes to destroy evil in a human being. God can take a soul from a previous life where a person has committed horrible crimes and can give that person a new beginning in a new life. That person that hurt God and Humanity can start to do it all over again in a new life as a baby. This is the way that God truly disciplines murderers and terrorists. They die and then they come back to life as a new baby with new parents and a new life.

We must work with God to stop the emergence of evil in our lives. One of our peers might resort to developing the intent to commit evil acts. We should teach our children and young adults how to report such a student to his or her teacher and to the police department.

We cannot just allow a peer or peers to enact evil upon Humanity if we have some way to do something to stop it from happening. We must work with God to try to destroy evil in His Universe. We must work with God to try to reform any student that is considering living a life of committing crimes and of engaging in self-destructive and destructive behaviors.

We must help persons that might emerge as evil human beings to work with psychiatrists, with psychotherapists, and with behavioral health professionals to help them to reject the temptations to injure and to destroy human life. We must help these individuals to understand the benefit of forming a new and productive relationship with God. We must help these persons to understand how to develop a powerful relationship with God so that can rejoin Humanity as powerful assets to God's Human Family.

We must forgive our brothers and sisters for inflicting painful and evil acts upon us. We must help the criminal justice system to help our brothers and sisters that we should never act upon the will of evil to injure or to destroy human life. We should always give people that have the misconception that they have something to gain by hurting themselves and by hurting others a second chance to be part of Humanity when they are truly sorry for committing the crimes that they have committed.

The Love of God is universal. God is ready to share His love with everyone. God wants to love others that commit acts of evil. God will not stop until He recaptures all our brothers and sisters that have fallen into the hands of evil and to show the intent to injure and to destroy human life. God is eventually always ready to forgive us for engaging in crimes and corruption because He loves us and He never wants to lose us to incarceration.

God wants to destroy evil by showing love and compassion for all His children. God wants all His children to understand the benefits of living in His Universe rather than living in a state of incarceration. God wants our brothers and sisters to understand that we all deserve to live in the freedom that God's Universe offers us. Committing crimes and living our lives in incarceration are inconsistent with the vision that God had of us when He worked with our parents to bring us into the world. God always wants us to be part of His Human Community all over the Universe.

God does not want to torture or to severely injure anyone in the process of destroying evil. God wants to be assertive in the way that He tries to convince us that we are wasting our time by embracing the doctrines of evil. We want to work with God to create and to develop human life. We do not want to destroy human life. We do not want to injure human life. We do not want to injure God relationship with any of us. We do not want to work to detach the ourselves from God by breaking off our relationships with Him.

We have no right to try to damage and/or to destroy God's relationship with another human being. We cannot encourage others to ignore God and/or to reject to Laws of God in their lives. We must encourage our brothers and sisters to embrace their relationships with God and to love Him.

God and the Holy Spirit will finally defeat evil in God's Universe. All our brothers and sisters throughout God's Universe will eventually fulfill the will of God. They will stop generating the energy to commit acts of violence against themselves and against each other. Our brothers and sisters will show nothing but love for God, for the Holy Spirit, and for Humanity. Our brothers and sisters will understand the wisdom behind their decision to reject the doctrines of evil that would call on them to injure themselves and to injure others for reasons that make no sense to God and/or to anyone else.

God and the Holy Spirit will find ways to understand the difference between good and evil. We will be able to understand God when He asks us to reject the mandate of evil that would encourage us to hurt ourselves and/or to hurt others.

All human life throughout the Universe will come to fall in love with God. All intelligent human life throughout the Universe will understand how to embrace the Laws of God. Our brothers and sisters throughout the Universe will reject the ideology of murder, suicide, and violence. We will no longer feel the motivation to hurt God, to hurt the Holy Spirit, to hurt each other, and/or to hurt ourselves. We want to live in an existence that is free of pain and suffering with God which is Our Loving Supreme Being.

We will learn to take our issues to God and to receive help from Him and from the Holy Spirit so that we can always make the right decisions in dealing with our daily problems and with our daily struggles. We will learn to trust the advice of God. We will see the wisdom of carrying out the Will of God. We will understand the benefits of doing what God and the Holy Spirit want us to do. We will learn to trust their advice and counseling because they will always help us to solve our problems and/or to make solving our problems easier.

We must understand how to respond to the love of God and of the Holy Spirit. God does not want to hurt us when we make a mistake. God wants to help us to repair the damage that we cause when we make mistakes and commit crimes. God and the Holy Spirit come to love us when they see that their love for us produces benefits that we all enjoy as part of being a Part of Humanity. God helps us to learn from our mistakes. God helps us to understand how we can develop strategies to reject violence and self-destructive behaviors to solve our problems. We must understand that God and the Holy Spirit love us no matter what we do. God and the Holy Spirit are there to save our lives. God and the Holy Spirit want to teach us the difference between right and wrong. We should embrace that kind of support and that kind of love.

We will always feel God's love in our lives. It is very easy to point the finger at God and to blame Him for all our problems. However, God does not cause problems for us. God starts to work with us to solve our problems from the moment that we discover that we have those problems. God understands our problems better than we do. God does not cause problems for us unless we become a threat to ourselves and/or a threat to others. God must discipline us if we want to be a threat to ourselves and to be a threat to others. God ultimately wants to rescue us from facing incarceration by alerting us about the dangers of our self-destructive behaviors and of our destructive behaviors.

We feel the Love of God every second of every day. God is there to care for us. God is there to guide us. God is there to prevent us from committing sins and crimes that would lead to our incarceration and loss of our freedom. We must welcome God into our lives if we feel that He is trying to stop us from hurting ourselves and/or trying to hurt others. God is there to save our lives.

We must work with God to try to make sure that the suffering of all of God's children all over the world will end. The suffering of our brothers and sisters all over the world is a crisis for all human life throughout the entire universe. We must work with God to end starvation, preventable illnesses, illiteracy, the intent to commit acts of terror, the absence of psychiatric treatment, and for giving the rest of Humanity excuses to try to injure them or to destroy their lives.

Generating the mental energy to show the intent to hurt our brothers and sisters in other parts of the world is a violation of our relationship with God. We must show unconditional love for our brothers and sisters just as God shows unconditional love for our brothers and sisters. We must forgive them if they express the intent to hurt us. We must try to convince them that it is not right to generate the energy to justify the attempt to commit a murder/suicide. We must be able to provide psychiatric treatment to anyone that is contemplating committing either a suicide, a homicide, and/or both a simultaneous suicide and homicide.

We cannot fantasize about injuring someone that is very mentally ill. We must work with God and the Holy Spirit to help them to receive psychiatric treatment so that they will not continue to pose a threat to themselves and/or to others.

We must be respectful of God's suffering as we consider how to work with Him to find ways to deal with outbreaks of evil all over the world. Our world leaders and the world's military forces answer to God when He calls them to respond to an outbreak of evil within Humanity. God does not tolerate outbreaks of evil within Humanity. God puts an end to any outbreak of evil that He will detect almost as soon as it appears.

God does not tolerate murder and destruction in His Universe. God will work with all our world leaders to put an end to evil. God wants all of us to understand that it is not in our best interests to create organizations that have evil intentions about committing murder, suicide, and/or committing murder and suicide simultaneously.

Evil is a cancer within God's Universe. We must do everything that we can to work with God to put an end to evil. We must work with God to stop our brothers and sisters to stop destroying themselves by embracing evil doctrines and evil motivations in their lives. We must teach our children that they should always reject the doctrines of evil such as substance abuse, the use of firearm, and the encouragement of existing in a detachment from God.

We will work with God and with the Holy Spirit to eventually defeat evil. Evil will eventually cease to exist. The problem is that God, the Holy Spirit, and Humanity must understand how to destroy evil without destroying human lives which are Parts of God.

Our schools must teach our students about how to exist within a genuine Attachment to God that will guide them away from committing crimes and doing destructive and self-destructive things that would lead them to face the punishment that evil faces.

We must pray to God that we will be able to work with Him and with the Holy Spirit to save the lives of all our brothers and sisters who consider committing acts of evil every day.