Introduction

God has a plan for each and every one of us from the time that He conceives us inside of the body of our mother. God has a destiny that he wants us to achieve from the time that we are born. We must start to understand his plan for us as toddlers when we will first try to function as normal human beings here within Humanity.

God grooms all of us for some type of career and for an education that would help us to achieve the career goals that would be associated with our destiny. Our parents, educators, siblings, and peers all play a role when we seek to develop the skills that we will need to achieve our destiny.

Our relationship with God starts when we are newborn babies. God works with our parents and all of us to help learn the basics about life. How we talk, how we think, and how we socialize. God helps us to shape our personalities. God helps us to understand that we exist and why we exist.

We all have different ways of finding God. We all of different ways of finding our destiny that comes to us from God. We may be in school and we can discover that we have a certain talent for drawing or for math. We might discover that we have excellent skills for understanding concepts that are related to science and technologies. We might find that we have a talent for understanding chemicals that might lead us to consider a career in the medical professions.

God has a plan for Humanity as a whole. God wants our suffering to end. God wants us to travel to the next level by trying to end violence, poverty, homelessness, and hatred between our brothers and sisters. God wants us to achieve a level of peace between ourselves. God wants us to achieve a lasting peace with Him.

God no longer wants to have reasons to make us suffer. God does not want to have excuses to punish us for doing things that are wrong. God no longer wants us to face incarceration and other penalties because we just do not know any better than to commit a crime during a mood swing or a period of legal insanity.

God did not design a human family that would be a factory of evil and hatred. God did not create our world to exist in a state of desperation. God did not create our human family to face endless suffering.

We all must believe that we can work with God to achieve a better world for ourselves and for the entire human family. We must believe that tomorrow can be better for us than what we are experiencing today. We must understand that we must look to God for guidance and support.

We must never believe that spectacular goals are unreachable. We must never believe that a better tomorrow is beyond us because dreaming of such a thing is completely crazy. We can look better toward achieving a better tomorrow by working with each other and with God today.

We have to explore our dreams in order to make them into a reality. That is part of being a human being.

The Kingdom of God

There will come a time in human history when we will recognize God as a Supreme Being that will have a controlling influence in every decision that we make and everything that we do. God is part of our daily lives regardless of whether we pray to Him or whether we think about Him. God creates every food, every fluid, and every material that we need to exist in our daily lives.

We must recognize that God always plays a role in our daily lives. He helps us to understand how to remain on good terms with Him. He helps us to understand how to do the right things to help ourselves and to help others. He rewards us for doing contributing to the wellbeing of all of our brothers and sisters throughout humanity. We must all recognize the role that God wants to play in all of our lives even though we might try to ignore God.

God will no longer allow us to commit crimes, to hurt ourselves, and/or to hurt others when He will achieve His promise of establishing the Kingdom of God on this Planet Earth. God and the Holy Spirit will no longer allow the commission of crimes against Humanity. God will allow the members of Humanity to live in peace with the Holy Spirit and with all of its members.

There will come a time when God will establish His Kingdom of God. We will then discover the substance of the Holy Spirit. We will discover the existence of the Holy Spirit. We will understand that it is an entity of higher intelligence. We will understand that it loves all of us. We will understand how the Holy Spirit functions as part of God. We will be thankful when the Holy Spirit works with God to establish the Kingdom of God so that the pain and suffering of all of our brothers and sisters will finally end.

There will come a time when all terminal illnesses will be curable. God and the Holy Spirit will be merciful with us by helping us to cure diseases like cancer and paralysis. God and the Holy Spirit will help our doctors to discover new ways to treat disabilities that arise from birth defects. They will help us to deal other types of illnesses such as substance abuse syndromes and chronic mental illness and behavioral disorders.

The Kingdom of God will mean that God and the Holy Spirit will be able to cure most of our illnesses. That is something to look forward to. We must remember to remain on good terms with God and the Holy Spirit so that they will welcome to live in the Kingdom of God throughout the universe.

We will see that people with disabilities will have unprecedented higher levels of functioning because of the help that our medical professionals will receive from God and from the Holy Spirit. We will develop new types of surgical procedures and surgical technologies that will help peoples with disabilities to achieve a higher level of potential.

There will be no such thing as homelessness in the Kingdom of God. Everyone that resides as a human child of God will have access to humane housing and to humane living conditions. God and the Holy Spirit will work with our world leaders to end the inhumane suffering of our homeless people throughout the world.

There will come a time when we will no longer refer to each other by race. We will refer to each other as human beings that are created in the image and likeness of God. We are all brothers and sisters that share the same designation as being human beings. There is no difference between two human beings because of their national origin or the color of their skin.

God created us to be equal as part of a global human family. We all answer to God as human beings. We do not answer to God differently from one another because of the color of our skin or because of the language that we speak. We share a mutual love for God that is universal for all of us. We must stop offending God by using racial inferences to refer to our brothers and sisters who are all part of God's human family.

The world's economies will work to stop poverty and the suffering of lower and middle class citizens of our One Human Nation. God and the Holy Spirit will work with The United Nations and the Governments of Humanity to employ space-age technologies that would make food products more accessible and affordable to all of our brothers and sisters throughout the world.

God and the Holy Spirit will work with world leaders and the Governments of Humanity to end poverty and to give all of us a humane standard of living. We must all look to God and to the Holy Spirit for guidance in how to rise above poverty and the suffering that comes along from poverty. We live as part of God's Human Family and of God's Universe. We have to work with God and with the Holy Spirit to help all of the Citizens of God's Nation of Humanity to rise above poverty, suffering, and unacceptable standards of living.

Alcohol, illegal drugs, tobacco, and firearms will be outlawed when God and the Holy Spirit establish the Kingdom of God. The Holy Spirit will make sure that all schools will teach our kids about the dangers of using drugs and alcohol. Our schools will teach kids about the incarceration that follows the commission of a crime by someone that uses firearms. We will teach our students to always look to God and to The Holy Spirit in order to gain guidance before they commit a destructive or self-destructive sin and/or crime before they do it in order for them to avoid committing the sin or crime.

Our kids will come to understand the dangers and the problems that come from using tobacco. Tobacco is a destructive substance that poisons a person's lungs and cardiovascular system. Our kids must understand how to reject the peer pressure that they will deal with that will encourage them to use tobacco related products.

Illegal drugs, tobacco, alcohol, and illegal firearms will be incompatible with The Kingdom of God. God and the Holy Spirit will not want anyone to use any substance or weapon that can be used to cause a self-inflicted injury upon oneself or injuries upon others. Flagrant self-inflicted injuries and flagrant injuries upon others will be unacceptable in the Kingdom of God.

We will worship God when we meet the Destiny of His Kingdom of God. We will leave our thousands of years of pain and suffering behind us. We will embrace a partnership with the Holy Spirit that will allow us to achieve accomplishments that would be beyond our dreams in our present day and age. God and the Holy Spirit will finally show the love that they have for us when they establish the Kingdom of God here on Planet Earth and throughout God's Universe.

The Kingdom of God will have prisons that will be mostly empty. That is because God and the Holy Spirit will work with a worldwide network of schools, behavioral health professionals, educators, world leaders, crisis counselors, medical professionals, and law enforcement agencies to help our kids and young adults to understand the difference between right and wrong. They will teach our kids the consequences of committing crimes. They will teach our young adults their fate if they violate their training in our special school that will be established by the Kingdom of God.

We will all answer to God and to the Holy Spirit when we will be citizens of the Kingdom of God. We all will work with God's Army of the Soldiers of the Forces of Good to make sure that we will have to maximum chance possible to stay away from life-threatening behaviors that could lead to incarceration. Incarceration is a tragedy for our entire human race. It makes God very sad when we incarcerate someone for committing a crime.

We will show sympathy and empathy for those who seek to hurt themselves and that seek to hurt others as part of the Kingdom of God. They will get help from all over the world. They will not automatically face persecution, attacks, injuries, and rejection from Humanity. We have to help those that are threats to themselves and that are threats to others with psychiatric treatment, psychological counseling, and vocational training. God will not punish any of His children in the Kingdom of God for wanting to hurt themselves or for wanting to hurt others because they have a behavioral disorder that causes them to be legally insane. God and the Holy Spirit will provide help for all of us that suffer from legal insanity when God establishes His Kingdom of God.

Hunger and starvation will no longer exist for Humanity when God establishes the Kingdom of God. God and the Holy Spirit will work with the Governments of Humanity to develop space-age technologies that would help them to manufacture more than enough food to feed the world's population and to find affordable ways to distribute the foods that they are producing.

Hunger, malnutrition, and starvation will be incompatible with the Kingdom of God. God will make certain that this kind of suffering will end for all of Humanity. It hurts God that these problems exist for Humanity at the present moment. God and the Holy Spirit will try desperately to find a way to stop starvation, hunger, and malnutrition as soon as it is possible.

We will teach our kids and young adults about the consequences that await them if they fantasize about being sex offenders. We must teach our young adults how sex offenders think. Our students must understand why God severely punishes and incarcerates sex offenders. Our students should have access to voluntary rehabilitation if they feel the need to violate young under aged minors or to rape adults.

Sex offenders will get medical treatment, psychological counseling, and unlimited rehabilitation in the Kingdom of God. We will teach them why their thinking is just unacceptable to God and to society as a whole. We must give them chances to reform themselves. This process has to begin when sex offenders are young adults. God will try to save sex offenders by helping them to understand that sexual activity is a mechanism that works between a man, a woman, and God to create a human life. These sex offenders have to understand that before they continue to destroy themselves in front of Humanity by taunting and infuriating God. Sex offenders will cease to exist in the Kingdom of God. We will all understand the truth about how to convince individuals that want to hurt us with illegal sexual acts to stop hurting God, to stop hurting others, and to stop hurting themselves.

Our schools will no longer produce students that fail in their courses. We will groom all of our students for success in the Kingdom of God. No students will be left behind. We will not leave students without extra-learning programs and government-funded tutoring programs that will help them to achieve enormous success in our schools.

Our schools will recognize that mental illness can cause our students to fall behind in their schoolwork. All students with behavioral disorders or mental illness will receive the psychiatric treatment and the psychological counseling that they will need in order to continue to achieve success in schools.

Our teachers and medical professionals will develop our children and young adults the right way when God and the Holy Spirit establish the Kingdom of God here on Earth. We will no longer give up on our students. We will no longer allow our students to disintegrate into incarceration. God and the Holy Spirit will no longer allow students to engage in reckless and irresponsible sexual behaviors and activities. Our kids and young adults will work with God, the Holy Spirit, and schools to achieve God's Plan and God's Destiny for all of them.

God and the Holy Spirit will not allow the occurrence of teenage pregnancies in the Kingdom of God. God is deeply hurt and disappointed when he creates a new human life inside of an under aged female minor. God and the Holy Spirit have no tolerance for the violation, rape, sodomy, and sexual exploitation of minors. The Kingdom of God will have Family Planning Training Centers and Family Planning Educational Programs that will help our young adult boys and girls throughout the world to understand the realities of under aged sexual activity. God and the Holy Spirit will end the exploitation of minors through under aged dating and under aged sexual activity.

God and the Holy Spirit will teach our kids and young adults about the dangers of reckless sexual activity. The Kingdom of God will not tolerate reckless and offensive sexual activity. All of our young adults and adults need to understand that because living in the Kingdom of God is a privilege that we could lose if we infuriate God with our illegal sexual behaviors.

We will understand how to conduct our sexual behaviors properly in the Kingdom of God or we will be expelled from the Kingdom of God for taunting and abusing God with our sexual behaviors. That is a sad story that is already playing itself out throughout the world right now with sexually transmitted diseases, unplanned pregnancies, and divorces.

We will invite all of our brothers and sisters from every country in the world to participate in a Universal Space Program. The Kingdom of God will allow us to have an unprecedented space exploration program with state-of-the-art spaceships. Participation in space exploration cannot be exclusive to some of us in the Kingdom of God. Space exploration must be inclusive to all of us that come from every country in the world.

God and the Holy Spirit will finally give us the ability to build spaceships that will help to unify Humanity so that we can work together to explore our own solar system. We have to have faith in God and in the Holy Spirit to establish a Kingdom of God that will allow all of us to travel into outer space safely and with human living conditions for our astronauts.

Rocket-propelled spaceships will be replaced by new spaceships that will be guided by state-of-the-art Clean Energy Generators. The spaceship will be huge, will be livable, and will have a life support system that will make space travel much more humane and convenient for our astronauts.

New spaceships could also increase the quality of life here on Earth. These would be supersonic aircraft that would be propelled by ion engines. The Ion Engine would receive power from Clean Energy Generators. These spaceships will also be able to levitate above the ground by using Levitation Pods that would also be power by Clean Energy Mechanisms.

The world will be a much smaller planet under the Kingdom of God. It will be less expensive and more convenient to fly from one point on our globe to another point on the globe. It would be many times faster for all of us to reach our destinations around the world. We would find it to be easier to find our brothers and sisters with the guidance of God and of the Holy Spirit.

We will work with God and with the Holy Spirit to seek forgiveness when we have presented an intent to God and to others to injure God's other children. We must work with God and with the Holy Spirit to find ways to forgive others for showing the intent to injure us.

One person's intent to seek to injure oneself and/or to injure others would be unacceptable in the Kingdom of God. God does not tolerate any conspiracy to justify a person's intent to hurt others. God and the Holy Spirit do not tolerate the type of thinking that a human being will have that will make him or her believe that he or she will have something valuable to gain from hurting himself or herself and/or from hurting others.

God and the Holy Spirit will always teach us that we have everything to lose when we seek to hurt someone because we are justified in doing so. God and the Holy Spirit know that our schools must teach our kids and young adults that they should never resort to engaging in acts of violence or retaliation against others for a misperception that someone deserves punishment from any of us.

God and the Holy Spirit employ Humanity's Criminal Justice Systems. The judges, law enforcement officers, and lawyers work together to bring anyone to injures God's Creation to justice. It is not our job to do this kind of thing ourselves.

God and the Holy Spirit will help people to understand that the intent to injure others and the intent to injure oneself will be unacceptable in the Kingdom of God. Our young adults and adults will feel constructive discipline because God and the Holy Spirit will detect that they are a threat to themselves and are a threat to others.

These types of people will get help from God, the Holy Spirit, and Humanity. That will be part of what will be different about living in the Kingdom of God. We will get help for our intent to hurt ourselves and to hurt others rather than to face punishment for that. People that misbehave need help. Humanity will help everyone that needs love and help when the Kingdom of God materializes in the future as part of Humanity's Destiny.

Humanity will work with God and with the Holy Spirit to end violence, suicides, murder, hatred, and violent crimes. There must be a realizable reason why God cannot stop an endless cycle of violence, murders, and suicides throughout the world. We cannot think that God has given up on us. We cannot believe that God stands on the sidelines and just watches this pain and suffering and refuses to do anything about what we are going through with the suffering and with violence that leads to wrongful deaths.

God gives us the freedom to function as part of His Creation. He tests all of us to see how much we love him and how much we love Humanity. We can fail the tests. However, we have a forgiving God that helps us to start over again if we have failed him in the past. The Holy Spirit helps us to recover from our past violations of our relationship with God.

God gets involved with our pain and suffering in many different ways. God employs millions of people to help us when sick individuals try to victimize us, our family members, and our friends and loved ones. God wants to get involved when it comes to stopping homicidal and suicidal behaviors. God, more than anyone else, wants the senseless violence to stop. He tries hard to deal with these problems in ways that are not clearly apparent to others that see the aftermath of humanity's episodes of violence.

There will be no life-threatening violence in the Kingdom of God. There will be no murder and/or suicides in the Kingdom of God. There will be no violent crimes in the Kingdom of God. We are going through a period of human history that helps God to understand our nature, whether we are good-natured or bad-natured.

People that will finally live in the Kingdom of God will be good in nature because they would have demonstrated that in their lives. God might disqualify others from living in the Kingdom of God because of the damage that they have caused to God's Human Family and to His children. It is unfortunate that many souls will be incompatible with the Kingdom of God. These souls may only be compatible with the Satanic Dungeon. They will reside there because of the pain and suffering that they have caused for God and for Humanity.

The Kingdom of God will be a society of billions of human beings that will answer to God and to the Holy Spirit and that will be free of the suffering of violence, wrongful deaths, murders, suicides, violent crimes, and hatred. Billions of human beings here within Humanity deserve to evolve into that kind of existence.

We will be able to help all of our brothers and sisters all over the world when we are part of the Kingdom of God. That means that we will have the capability to rescue them from hunger, poverty, starvation, and life-threatening diseases. We will be able to help our brothers and sisters who are in dire need of help from God and from the Holy Spirit anywhere in the world at a moment's notice and at God's request.

The United Nations will be the world's largest employer of medical doctors, psychiatrists, nurses, psychologists, and Medical Special Forces. The United Nations will be the central nervous system of the Kingdom of God here on this Planet Earth. This organization will become the Central Government of Humanity. The United Nations will preside over the Kingdom of God when it finally becomes a reality when Humanity is finally willing and able to make peace with God and with the Holy Spirit.

We have to be ready to help all of our brothers and sisters to achieve a final peace with God by leading them away from violence, hatred, starvation, and life-threatening diseases. We will then show God that we are eligible to exist in the Kingdom of God when He creates it here on the Planet Earth.

There will be no such thing as starvation among children in the Kingdom of God. We must feel ill and sad when we know that starvation among children and young adults exists all over the world. We are part of a human family that answers to God and to the Holy Spirit. We cannot just sit back and to tolerate the suffering and the pain of God's babies, toddlers, and children all over the world. We want to be there to help them on the behalf of God and of the Holy Spirit. Our children's endless suffering is incompatible with our missions to be constructive parts of Humanity that will answer to God and to the Holy Spirit.

We have to be ready to deal with starvation and deadly diseases all over the world when God's children are sick and suffering. That is how we prove to God that we are worthy of a place in the Kingdom of God when it comes into existence. We are all part of God. Being part of God is not just being obedient of laws and doing the right things all of the time. It is also about helping others on behalf of God and of the Holy Spirit when they can really use our help. We must be ready to help others that are suffering at the request of God and the Holy Spirit. That is how we will gain entrance into the Kingdom of God.

We must show sympathy for mentally ill and disturbed children, young adults, adults. We must seek to help them more than to seek to punish them. We cannot punish them for being sick. All of us that are sick deserve medical treatment that will help us to feel relief from the symptoms of our illnesses. We cannot seek to punish someone who is misbehaving just because we would normally think that we should treat misbehaving young adults with punishment. We must be forgiving of children, young adults, and adults that misbehave and we have to get them medical and psychiatric treatment. We have to do everything that we can to treat the illness by helping the patient before we will punish the person because we feel that he or she deserves to suffer because he or she is sick.

We do not want to lose any of our brothers and sisters to incarceration. We want them to continue to remain to be constructive parts of our human family. We do not want them to disappear from the face of the Earth because they could not get the psychiatric treatment that they needed before they committed the unthinkable crimes that caused them to lose their right to continue to function as part of Humanity.

The Kingdom of God will be about getting people help when they have psychiatric disorders so that they will never really have the capability to commit the really serious crimes. We want to get them medical treatment before they go over the edge. That will be part of what the Kingdom of God will be all about. It will be a combination of forgiveness, sympathy, and psychiatric counseling that will save all of our brothers and sisters from incarceration.

The Role That Science Will Play in Our Destiny

Scientists answer directly to God and to the Holy Spirit. God and the Holy Spirit work together to choose who has the right attitude and qualifications to become a scientist. Scientists work with God and the Holy Spirit to produce projects and inventions that make the world a better place to live. Scientists investigate our relationships with God and with the Universe. They help us to understand how God works with the Universe to create and to maintain all human and nonhuman life.

Scientists work to help us to understand the potential that we have to work with God to make the world a better place to live. Scientists help us to understand how to cure diseases. They help us to understand how to work with nature to create food and fluids. They help us to work with nature to obtain water, oil, and natural gas. They also help us with sewage and sanitation. Scientists and engineers want to create incredible inventions that succeed in improving our standard of living.

God and the Holy Spirit guide scientists and engineers to produce projects that will contribute to the overall betterment of Humanity. They help our scientists and engineers to conceive these inventions. They help to train and to certify these scientists and engineers in various colleges, universities, and technical schools. The Holy Spirit gives OUR scientists and engineers supreme guidance so that their investigations, projects, and inventions will succeed. The Holy Spirit gives our scientists and engineers top-secret and extra training which are beyond that they had received in their training in their schools so that they can succeed in accomplishing their missions in their companies of employment.

Science is a unifying force that brings all of our brothers together by sustaining an indefinite and global investigation of our relationship with God and with God's Universe that keeps us in existence. We benefit from understanding God's Universe because that allows us to grow closer to God both in prayer and in our relationships with others.

Scientists work with God and the Holy Spirit to identify problems and to try to find ways to solve those problems. Scientists and engineers work in groups to invent projects and to try to solve problems. However, God made them out to be scientists and engineers because of the way that they answer to God and to the Holy Spirit. Our scientists and engineers get many of their ideas for inventions and for theories from God and the Holy Spirit. They get their guidance in how to construct projects that have never before existed from the Holy Spirit.

Scientists and engineers work together with each other and with God and the Holy Spirit to better serve Humanity. That is that they want to make Humanity a better place for all of us. They want to help us to find God through science. They want to help us to establish our ultimate goals of exploring the universe and trying to come to a final peace with each other and with God.

Therefore, scientists show love for God, the Holy Spirit, and for Humanity. They work to find the place where God and Humanity meet. They want God and Humanity to unite at some point in the future. They want Humanity to understand God by helping us to understand the way that the Universe works to sustain us as living human beings.

God loves our scientists because they have been helping God and all of us to have a better world to live in for decades.

The Holy Spirit will work with our engineers to build a new and modern space ship that will allow us to explore our solar system. Our scientists would have to work to develop new theories of gravitation and electromagnetism in order to begin to design the components for the new spaceship. We would need to establish a strong power source such as a Clean Energy Generator. We would need a better understanding about what it means to fly out in to space as well as flying in the planet's atmosphere.

It would be hard to give up on using rocket propelled capsules to reach space. We have to progress in a positive direction at some point. We have to look to a brighter future for our Space Exploration Program. We have to believe that we can build a superior spaceship. We have to put in a superior effort to achieve that with the help of God and the Holy Spirit.

We must remember that we must believe that a dream is realizable before it can become a reality. We must try to find our destiny in space exploration with a new and more powerful spaceship, a Space-Saucer Craft, before we can succeed in building one.

Our medical doctors, our psychiatrists, psychotherapists, and clinical social workers can achieve the ultimate success of reaching all mentally disturbed patients and patients that suffer from substance abuse problems to get the help that they need in order to lead a normal life. We have to remember that people with behavioral disorders or psychiatric disorders are human beings that deserve medical treatment if they were to become ill. The treatment plan of any mentally ill patient is to make sure that he or she does not evolve to become a threat to himself or a threat to others.

We must try to work with our behavioral health scientists to save the lives of our mentally disturbed patients. We must all work with God and with the Holy Spirit to find ways to find to save those of us that suffer from mental illnesses. We should stop achieving the pain of losing our mentally ill brothers and sisters to a life of incarceration. We do not want them to spend the rest of their lives in psychiatric facilities or in prisons.

Scientists. Have to work hard to work with God, the Holy Spirit, and Humanity to save the lives of every single person that may commit a crime or that might hurt himself or herself because of a mistreated psychiatric illness. We have to help our doctors to make the world a better place by helping those who could benefit from psychiatric treatment.

Our Behavioral Health Community can help us to intervene in the lives of our children and young adults in order to minimize the chance that they will grow into a state where they will become a threat to themselves and/or a threat to others. We have to save the lives of our children when they are in grammar schools, middle schools, and in high schools.

We have to make psychological counseling and psychiatric assessments and treatments available to all of our students in all of our grammar schools, middle schools, and high schools. We have to do everything that we can to catch the first signs that a student may have a psychiatric disorder and to treat it aggressively before the illness worsens to a point where they child or young adult may become a threat to himself or herself and/or a threat to others.

We must make sure that students that fall behind in their studies should receive psychiatric and psychological evaluations and psychiatric medical treatment if it is necessary. All private and public schools should work with psychiatrists and psychologists to make sure that they can treat kids and young adults that are at high risk for developing psychiatric disorders.

Our psychiatrists must promote positive relationships between children, young adults and adults with God and with the Holy Spirit. We all need relationships with God and with The Holy Spirit. Psychiatrists can help their patients to find spiritual healing, spiritual guidance, and spiritual help by promoting a patient's relationships with God and with the Holy Spirit. Psychiatrists, psychologists, psychotherapists, and clinical social workers can benefit in trying to help a psychiatric patient that is pursuing a religious faith and who is pursuing relationships with God and with the Holy Spirit.

Psychiatrists must understand how difficult it would be to treat a patient that has achieved a detachment from God. That detachment from God can make a patient's medical condition untreatable. So, it is important to include the pursuit of a partnership with God and a partnership with the Holy Spirit as part of a psychiatric patient's treatment plan.

God and the Holy Spirit have been proposing new inventions for decades. Scientists and engineers have been creating tens of thousands of inventions over the last hundred years that have been uplifting our standard of living and that have improved our lifestyles. God and the Holy Spirit can put their faith in their scientists and engineers to invent the mechanisms and chemicals that Humanity needs to proceed into the Space Age.

Scientists have to work with a strong relationship with God. They also must have an acceptable relationship with the Holy Spirit in order to receive the guidance that they need to successfully complete engineering projects and research projects. The guidance from God and the Holy Spirit can appear to any of us in a number of different ways. We could hear their voices. We could feel their energy. We can get instructions without hearing voices at all. God and the Holy Spirit always have presences in the lives of our scientists and engineers.

Doctors are deeply inspired by the way that Jesus Christ demonstrated his healing powers in Israel when he would use magical powers to cure people with chronic illnesses. Today's doctors continue to have the presences of God and the Holy Spirit in their lives. They continue to work with scientists and engineers to make progress in treating terminal illnesses like cancer. Our doctors work to increase our standard of living by utilizing state-of-the-art medical treatments and medical procedures to treat their patients.

All doctors answer to God and to the Holy Spirit. There will come a time in human history when doctors will be able to cure mostly all illnesses and will be able to bring full functioning to disabled human beings. It is a process that will take time. However, it is a goal that will become realizable because of the resolve of our medical doctors, scientists, and engineers to indefinitely extend the lives of His human children.

Scientists can work to help us to strengthen our relationship with God by investigating the relationships that exist in the universe that create and that sustain all human and nonhuman life. We look to work with scientists to find God by working with scientists to investigate His Creation. We work with scientists and engineers to reach God when we try to achieve parenthood. We need guidance from scientists when we begin to work with God and a spouse to develop a new human life after childbirth.

The goal of science is to help all of us to find God collectively regardless of our different religious faiths. We can all work together to try to find God through science by cooperating with our brothers and sisters without using different religious faiths as an excuse to refuse to try to find God with each other through a pursuit of scientific knowledge.

Psychologists can work with other scientists to try to determine how God works with parents to develop a human life from the time of childbirth to the toddler years and beyond. Parents need to understand the role that God plays in the development of a baby and/or a toddler. God helps the baby to develop language skills, to understand how to eat and drink fluids, and to use his or her arms and legs. God also allows parents to hear their baby's thoughts even though parents do not always know it. Parents get the message when God explains a baby's issues with them.

God's role in helping parents and a baby is to develop a disabled kid into a toddler that can talk and that has the ability to walk and to function in other ways. God is part of the way that parents work together to begin to develop a baby into a toddler.

Psychologists should investigate how parents function when God has to help them to develop a baby and/or a toddler in the background. This knowledge could be crucial in helping educators, psychologists, and psychiatrists to understand what goes wrong in the psychological development of a toddler and/or a child. We have to try to make sure that we can understand what to do right and what we do wrong in the development of a baby and a toddler so that there will be less of a likelihood of a problem in the development of a child and young adult after the toddler years.

Physicists and mathematicians work with God and the Holy Spirit to understand the most basic processes of the physical universe that support the creation and the development of human and nonhuman life. We can try to find God when we investigate the Laws of Nature that are responsible for giving God the ability to create all of us, animal life, plant life, and all other types of life.

Studying the most basic processes of the physical universe helps all of us to understand the power and the greatness of our One True God because we see the universe that makes God a Universal Factory of Human and Nonhuman Life. We have to worship God and pray to him for giving us the ability to exist in a universe that has the capability to support an infinite amount of human and nonhuman life because of God's Laws of Nature.

Scientists help teachers to develop many different strategies to help their students to succeed in their classrooms. Teachers utilize numerous new technologies to help their students to understand their coursework. Teachers encourage all students to understand how to use powerful computers. Teachers benefit from using powerful computer programs and teaching aids that are developed by scientists and engineers.

Teachers also work with God to help their students to succeed. Many teachers do not know the role that God plays in developing students. God helps students to learn their alphabets, to establish a vocabulary, and to learn their initial social skills. God guides all babies, toddlers, and children to work with parents and teachers to develop them as students both in preschool and in grammar school and beyond.

Scientists such as psychologists that investigate the development of babies and toddlers really investigate a baby's relationship with God or a toddler's relationship with God.

Scientists can help us to develop special rehabilitation programs for children and young adults that can teach them the dead-end street of using and dealing illegal drugs. Psychiatrists and psychologists need to develop special programs to help students to understand the damage that they can inflict upon themselves by using illegal drugs and alcohol. Our medical scientists have developed substance abuse rehabilitation programs for our kids and young adults who have never used illegal drugs.

Scientists can develop programs to help us to better understand heterosexuality, homosexuality, and transsexuality. We need to understand why so many young adults and adults fail to recognize the benefits of working with God and a spouse of the opposite gender to achieve parenthood. We should come to understand the purpose of heterosexual relationships with regard to the creation of human life that a man and a woman achieve through intimacy in their relationship with God. We must also understand what homosexual gain by rejecting their God-Given potential to work toward the conception, birth, and development of human life through their relationships with God.

We all have an obligation to work with God to help Him to fulfill His purpose to create and to develop human life through heterosexual parenthood. God is disrupted when some of His adult children cannot achieve parenthood. That makes it harder for God to achieve His quota for the number of babies that He would want to create and to bring into the world at any given time. God needs help from all adults to meet His quota for the creation of human lives on a daily basis. God is very hurt when He cannot meet that quota because His adult sons and daughters refuse to achieve parenthood.

We must be merciful with the Supreme Being that created us by helping God to create and to develop human life as we achieve parenthood. We really have nothing to gain by refusing to become parents. We must work to sustain the strength of Humanity by working with God to bring as many new lives into the human family as we can through our intimacy with a partner of the opposite gender and with God.

Scientists can help us to develop technologies that can better help us to create food and food products by working with God and the Holy Spirit to develop such technologies. God and the Holy Spirit need to work with scientists and engineers to stop hunger, starvation, and poverty for Humanity.

We need to get vital food products and medical treatments to all of our children and adults around the world that are sick and starving the most. Isolationism hurts Humanity and it hurts God. We cannot sit back and say that the suffering that our brothers and sisters are facing in other parts of the world does not matter to us. Their suffering, starvation, and life-threatening illnesses definitely do matter to us. Their suffering in the poverty that they live in disrupts humanity. God, the Holy Spirit, and Humanity can no longer refuse to ignore these problems that exist throughout the world.

Humanity's Destiny and Religions

Hatred and mistrust between members of different members of the world's religions would must end. We cannot continue to have harmful thoughts about the members of another religious faith because that kind of attitude deeply hurts God.

God does not tolerate conflicts between members of different religious faiths. God does not tolerate the need to inflict harm and the need to inflict fatal injuries upon members of a different religious faith. We all answer to God no matter which faith it is that we choose to pursue.

We must respect the teachings of the prophets of religious faiths other than our own religious faith. We must understand that we all answer to the One True God no matter what faith we practice and what faith we belong to. We must recognize the goodness of our brothers and sisters that exist in other religious faiths that answer to the same One True God to which we answer.

God is deeply offended when we even make the implication that one of His religions promotes acts of evil. God does not tolerate any uprising of evil in any of His religions. God and the Holy Spirit work with Humanity to dissolve any illness within any of our religious communities that promotes the injuring or the destruction of human life. God and the Holy Spirit work together with Humanity to remove any signs of evil in our religious communities and to help Humanity to recover from a temporary uprising of mental illness that could have caused our brothers and sisters from a religious faith to hurt God, to hurt us, and to hurt themselves at the same time.

God does not create evil within our religions. God does not promote evil within our religions. God treats destructive behaviors with members of our religions as the products of untreated mental illnesses. We must struggle to help members of different faiths that are so mentally ill and that are so incapacitated by the way that they need to hurt themselves and to hurt others to get help that from us that can save their lives.

We should look to God and to the Holy Spirit for guidance in order to find ways to help our brothers and sisters that belong to others religions to find the psychiatric treatment, the psychological treatment, and the medical treatment that they need so that they will no longer be a threat to humanity or a threat to themselves.

All of the religious leaders and members of the world's faiths will work together to find God through science. That means that scientists will take our relationships with God to a higher level by helping our religious leaders to further understand the roles that God will play in our daily lives to create, maintain, and to develop human and nonhuman life. Scientists will help all of our religious leaders and the members of the world's religions the Greatness of God's Universe. Scientists will help us to create a more powerful relationship with God that will lead to the betterment of humanity that will lead to a final end to the suffering of God and the members of His human family.

We will live in peace with the universe when our religious leaders work together with our scientists to find God. That means that we will all have a beautiful and constructive relationship with God. That means that we will have a constructive way of avoiding incarceration, self-inflicted injury, and injuries to others. Our scientists will help us to have a higher respect for God and for His Creation.

We must understand how to love each other as part of the Destiny of Humanity. It is our destiny to recognize that we are all brothers and sisters that answer to the One True God. We must understand that it is our obligation to God to care about all of us throughout the universe. That means that we will be willing to help our brothers and sisters that are in a crisis anywhere in the world.

Wrongful deaths and natural disasters disrupt humanity. It is our love for God and our love for humanity that guides us in our ability to help our brothers and sisters that have to cope with disasters and wrongful deaths. We have to look to God and to the Holy Spirit for grief counseling in order to find a way to bring closure to a disaster that has brought pain and suffering to all the members of our families and to our international communities.

Our destiny is to find a way to always find a way to work with God and the Holy Spirit to show love for our fellow human beings throughout the world. We must show this affection in a way that is completely unselfish and that is completely compassionate, sympathetic, and kind. That is how God will reward humanity in the future by ending all human suffering.

Scientists, psychiatrists, and other mental health professionals will help us to understand that God does not create evil. Evil is a cancer within God's creation that has been threatening to undermine His Universe for thousands of years. Evil does not come from God. Evil is the human effort to destroy and to incapacitate all human life in the universe. Evil promotes the thinking that justifies suicides and homicides. Evil seeks to turn humanity away from God as a way of attempting to destroy God's Universe.

Scientists, psychiatrists, other mental health professionals, and the criminal justice system have been trying to find ways to destroy evil for thousands of years. We still do not know why evil comes into existence. We still do not know why evil want to attack God by attempting to destroy human life. We still do not know how to find psychiatric counseling for those that pose a threat to themselves and that pose a threat to others because they have the evil intentions to destroy life in God's Universe.

God creates and promotes the existence of all life. Evil promotes the destruction of all life. It is the Destiny of Humanity to work with God and the Holy Spirit to finally end the existence of evil and to rid the universe of all efforts to purposely destroy and to injure human life. We will achieve this goal through the cooperation of God, the Holy Spirit, scientists, religious leaders, and world leaders. We will finally win the war against evil because it is our destiny to do so.

Part of Humanity's Destiny is to find a final resolution to the conflict between the members of different religious faiths in God's Human Family. Firstly, we all answer to the same One True God no matter which faith of which we belong. Secondly, all of our religious faiths make it perfectly clear that God does not tolerate violence with the intent to destroy human life. Thirdly, we are one human family regardless of what faith we belong to. The last thing that we want to do to our relationship with God is to continue to find excuses to injure and to kill members of other faiths.

Mentally ill members of other faiths do not need violence from us. They need psychiatric treatment, medical treatment, and religious counseling in order to continue to function as part of humanity. We must be better able to help our fellow brothers and sisters that have an illness that will lead them to want to hurt themselves and to hurt others. Hurting others because it seems that they want to hurt us does not accomplish much of anything.

We have to help people of different religious faiths that are so ill that they think that resorting to violence will help them to achieve their goals. We have to understand that pointing a gun at a mentally disturbed person that is suicidal will result in a suicide most of the time. Our scientists and psychiatrists will work with God and with the Holy Spirit to stop that from continuing to happen.

Murder is never justified. God will not tolerate the murder of a member of one religious faith by a member of another religious faith. Scientists and religious leaders must work with God and the Holy Spirit to end the conflict that leads to violence between members of different religious faiths that will result in wrongful deaths and murders.

God will not tolerate any justification for murder within humanity. None of us has the right to destroy a human life because we have the justification to do so. God and only God has the right to make a decision about whether to allow someone to live or to die. We cannot make that decision for God. We cannot make excuses to make that decision for God.

We will always pay the ultimate price for violating our relationship with God by trying to kill someone or by succeeding in killing someone. Some people may not go to prison for it. However, God will punish them for that kind of thing for the rest of their lives.

We cannot use cruel and unusual punishment to punish anyone. The cruelest form of punishment that we can use against anyone is to execute that person. The government is hypocritical when it says that murder is a first degree felony and they will still find excuses to murder people through executions.

We have to stop murders within our societies. We have to stop murders through warfare. We have to stop murders through the commissions of crimes. We have to stop state-sponsored murders of convicted death-row inmates that are not authorized by God.

Scientists, psychiatrists, and religious leaders must work together with God in order to stop the illness within humanity that promotes suicides and murders.

It violates our relationships with God when a religious leader decides to have harmful thoughts about members of another faith. Expressing an interest in hurting members of the same faith or hurting members of a different faith is unacceptable. God is very hurt when religious leaders that answer to Him express hateful intentions to hurt others that belong to their faith or to other faiths.

The hatred between the members of different faiths must end. We must come to understand why that conflict and hatred exist between members of different faiths. We must understand why members of different faiths will disrespect God by seeking to pursue harmful thoughts and intentions toward each other.

Part of the Destiny of Humanity is to bring a lasting peace between members of all religious faiths throughout the world. Scientists, psychiatrists, and other mental health professionals will work together to help all of us from all different faiths to understand that we are all one family and that we all answer to the One True God. We will achieve our destiny when we come to understand that we love each other. We will understand that we are severely mentally ill when we believe that we are justified in having a hatred to our brothers and sisters of a different religious faith. We must be united by a love for each other and by a collective love for God, who is our Creator.

God expects us to seek psychiatric care whenever we feel that we are a threat to ourselves and/or a threat to others. Our Human Family will achieve its destiny when we are mature enough to understand that we need to seek professional psychiatric help whenever we are so ill that we feel that it would be beneficial to hurt ourselves and/or to hurt others.

We will achieve our destiny when our scientists and medical professionals will be able to reach every single person that needs psychiatric and psychological counseling before they carry out a plan to hurt themselves and/or to hurt others. We must establish early intervention programs to help to persuade people to stop short of committing crimes, hurting themselves, and/or hurting others. We must convince them to get psychiatric treatment through early intervention programs. That will save their lives and will stop them from living a life of incarceration.

Scientists, psychiatrists, world leaders, and religious leaders must work with God and with the Holy Spirit to save all of us from the demons of substance abuse, criminal behaviors, suicidal behaviors, and homicidal behaviors. Humanity come closer to achieving its destiny when it makes early intervention programs accessible to severely ill persons that are in danger of succumbing to death and/or incarceration because they cannot find psychiatric and medical treatment for their illnesses that encourage them to hurt themselves and to hurt others.

We must work to find God through science so that He and the Holy Spirit can work with us to save our severely ill brothers and sisters from facing the emptiness of substance abuse, homelessness, and incarceration in psychiatric facilities and correctional facilities. God's suffering has to end at some point because he cannot continue to lose His Human Beings forever.

Humanity's goals for achieving its destiny center around helping God and the Holy Spirit to save us from the final punishment of hurting ourselves and from hurting others.

God wants scientists to work with religious leaders to begin to end the world's problems. Religious leaders rely on the teachings of ancient prophets to understand the basics of what God expects from all of us. However, we are new generation of human beings that seeks to bond with God in a way that is unprecedented in human history.

Our scientists and religious leaders can work directly with God in order to start to find solutions to the world's problems. Part of the solutions is to communicate with God. God is an Entity that communicates with all of us on a daily basis. God offers to help us even when we do not ask Him for help. He helps us even when we do not know that He is helping us.

God helps us through a direct connection with scientists and religious leaders. World leaders are also involved with efforts by the United Nations to try to solve Humanity's problems by communicating with God and with the Holy Spirit. God helps our world leaders to understand our problems and to find ways to fix those problems in a way that is peaceful and not destructive to human beings in other nations.

We must respect the power of scientists to help all of us to find God by working with God, religious leaders, and world leaders. The United Nations answers to Our One True God. They try to oversee the status of God's Human Nation. The United Nations is an organization that works directly with God and the Holy Spirit to guide humanity through its problems.

Our world leaders in the United Nations and around the world have to understand that we cannot just solve problems without seeking the guidance and assistance of God and of the Holy Spirit. We need to reach our Higher Powers in order to work to achieve Humanity's Destiny. All of our world leaders and officials of the United Nations answer directly to God even if they do not think about it.

World leaders do not always think about who created Humanity. They do not think about who continues to maintain Humanity in existence. They take it for granted that water, oil, natural gas, and other substances appear out of nowhere. All human and nonhuman life comes from God. Everything that supports human and nonhuman life comes from God. God guides us to find things such as water springs and oil wells.

Our world leaders have to understand that we all answer to God. We all must respect God's opinions and feelings about the way that Humanity deals with its problems. We must respect God's anger when violence and chaos break out in a remote part of the world when we do not have the resources to fix the problems that cause the disaster.

Humanity will achieve its destiny when all of our religious and world leaders understand that all of us have to take God's feelings and anger into account when they make decisions about what will happen to humanity from now into the future.

The United Nations must work with God and all other nations to make sure that all nations and peoples of all faiths have access to latest psychiatric treatments and medications that are available to us in the Western World. We can no longer allow our brothers and sisters to suffer around the world because they do not have adequate psychiatric care. People of different faiths must have access to powerful psychiatric care as it exists in the Western World to help them to obey God's Law's and to be welcomed members of humanity.

We must be willing to provide these types of medical treatments to our brothers and sisters around the world before we will try to punish them for being severely mentally ill. God wants to look out for them. God wants to help them. God does not want them to really believe that suicide and/or homicide are ever justified because of an untreated psychiatric disorder.

Members of all religious faiths must decide to work together with the scientific community to attempt to find God. Finding God can mean many different things. We can have conversations with God where we can express our grievances and concerns. We can receive feedback and guidance from God. We can come to understand God's will for us. We can understand God's plan for us. We can come to understand our destiny. We can also understand that God loves us and will guide us away from any behaviors that threaten ourselves and that threaten others. God can also help us to understand our problems and how we can solve them.

Scientists will help members of all religious faiths to understand that prayer is a good way to communicate with God. However, we must take communicating with God to a higher level. God must be there for us when we need help from Him. God must be able to talk to us about our concerns and problems. God must communicate with us when we come close to making a mistake or committing a crime that might be life-threatening to ourselves and to others. God can guide us away from the dangers that might face us in an alien situation.

Scientists and religious leaders can find God simply by attempting to talk to Him. God seeks to find us because He loved us when He created us. He loved us when He developed us into toddlers, into children, into young adults, and into adults. Scientists and religious leaders should understand that God, parents, doctors, and educators are major players in the development of human beings from the time that they are born.

Scientists and religious leaders must understand that all of us start out with a relationship with God since infancy. We must never achieve a detachment from God that could cause us to believe that we could become a threat to ourselves and/or a threat to others and that we would be justified to do so. A detachment from God is a total rejection of a human being's relationship with God. It can happen for many unknown reasons.

We must show love for God by being ready to forgive members of other religious faiths for showing the intent to injure us or to try to kill us. God is a forgiving Being. He seeks to forgive all of us for our sins and crimes. We must look to God for guidance when we attempt to forgive a member or members of another faith for showing the intent to inflict life-threatening injuries against us.

We have to show respect for God by forgiving our brothers and sisters of other faiths for giving us the impression that they want to hurt us in any way. God expects us to forgive others just as we expect God to forgive us.

We cannot be stereotypical about members of another faith. We cannot judge members of an entire religious faith by the unfortunate destructive actions of a few of the members of that faith. God preserves all members of a faith intact when a few severely mentally ill members decide to hurt themselves, to hurt others, and to hurt Humanity. We cannot prejudge an entire faith because of the actions of a few of the severely mentally ill individuals that belong to the faith that are either dead or are in custody.

Scientists and religious leaders must work with God, the Holy Spirit, and Humanity to stop the types of mental illnesses that provoke a member or members of a religious faith to harm Humanity by being threats to themselves and by being threats to others.

We have to understand that we are all human beings regardless of what faith we pursue. God loves all of us. Our entire Human Family suffers when an extremely mentally ill person seeks to hurt himself and to hurt others. We share the grief of the loved ones of such tragedies. However, we must be respectful to God by finding in our hearts to forgive those mentally ill persons whether they are deceased or in custody for what they have done to disrupt our human race. That is how we work with God to heal after we have survived tragedies that involve concurrent suicides and homicides.

Our relationships with God are part of the healing process when someone has successfully committed suicide and homicide at the same time. God and the Holy Spirit work with grief counselors to help us to deal with that kind of pain. We do not see God crying. However, images of God's pain after such a tragedy are everywhere.

Scientists and religious leaders pray to God for emotional and psychological healing for the loved ones and of the communities that are involved in losing their beloved brothers and sisters. God cries more than anyone else when His Human Family is disrupted by wrongful deaths at the hands of someone who has committed suicide. God feels the pain of everyone that suffers for our lost brothers and sisters throughout the world.

God slowly helps us with the healing process. God works with grief counselors, psychiatrists, and mental health professionals to reestablish the level of functioning of the members of the effected community. God hears all of their prayers and requests for help. God lives inside the bodies of every one of the surviving families.

Scientists, religious leaders, mental health officials, and world leaders have to work with God and with the Holy Spirit in order to prevent these tragedies by convincing people that consider to do these horrible things to get psychiatric treatment and religious and psychological counseling. Punishing individuals that are this sick really will not accomplish much. Helping them before they carry out their suicidal and homicidal intentions would be a better way to stop this kind of violence.

Scientists, religious leaders, mental health professionals, and world leaders should understand that part of the Destiny of Humanity is to end all violence on this Planet Earth. We must work to provide treatment options to those that feel the need to engage in violence against themselves and against others. This intervention should start in our grammar schools, middle schools, and high schools. We should persuade our kids and young adults to never resort to violence to solve problems.

Our educators, psychiatrists, psychotherapists, and law enforcement officials must help our students to understand the consequences of attempting to solve problems by resorting to violence. Our kids and young adults have to understand what violence does and how it works. They have to understand the different levels of violence from a slap on the wrist to a life threatening injury with a weapon. Our kids must understand what they would accomplish by using violence.

Religious leaders have to help our kids and young adults to understand that violence only causes more problems that it will solve. They need to see what prisons, correctional facilities, and psychiatric hospitals look like so that they can understand the concept of incarceration when they will be arrested for carrying out threats of violence.

We need to reach both public school students and private school students in order to educate them about violence and the consequences that follow the commissions of acts of violence. We must talk with our students about how they rationalize violence. We have to help them to understand the benefits of working peacefully with God, scientists, psychiatrists, and religious leaders in order to solve problems rather than resorting to violence. Humanity will achieve its destiny when we can allow our kids and young adults to understand the consequences of engaging in violence.

Humanity's Destiny in Education

Our schools will stop committing graduates that will succeed in committing crimes. It is unfortunate that many of our students become criminals and substance abusers. This is completely unfair and unacceptable to God, to the Holy Spirit, and to our society. Our schools must teach our kids and young adults about the dangers and consequences of using and distributing illegal drugs. They must understand what it means to go to prison for dealing with drugs on the streets from the time that they are in the first grade.

We must groom both our private school students and our public school students to become law-abiding adults that will understand the consequences of resorting to a life of substance abuse and criminal activities. We cannot just allow them to fail to understand the laws of our society so that they can fall into two or three traps that will ruin their lives for the rest of their lives.

Our teachers, scientists, religious leaders, psychiatrists, psychotherapists, and law enforcement agencies are obliged to train our kids in our grammar schools, middle schools and high schools to understand the difference between what is legal, what is not legal, and the consequences of committing crimes that are not legal.

Our nation is in a desperate crisis in our schools. We need to get our students the psychiatric treatment and the psychotherapy that they need in order to mature in to normal and law-abiding adults. We need to make sure that they can understand how to function in a relationship with a partner after graduating from high school or college.

Our heterosexual young adults need to understand concepts such as consummation, sexual intercourse, conception, a pregnancy, the menstrual cycle, and child birth. They also need to understand the purposes and functioning of birth control and abortions.

Family planning counseling should be available to all young adults in our grammar schools, middle schools, high schools, and colleges. Men and women have to understand what they are doing when they begin to flirt with sexual activity before graduating from a high school or from college.

Our young adults have to understand that God is the Supreme Being that creates human life inside of a woman's life, which is His Factory of Human Life. They need to understand the sexual activity is part of their relationship with God that provokes God to create a human life inside of His Factory of Human Life inside of a woman's body.

Our young adults have to understand the consequences of promiscuity, unprotected sexual activity, abuse of birth control, an unplanned pregnancy, high-risk sexual behaviors, and sexually transmitted diseases.

Our young adults have to know how to behave themselves with their sexual activity so that God will not punish them for engaging in sexual behaviors that offends God.

God has many ways to punish us for offending Him with our sexual behaviors. We cannot betray Him by thinking that sexual activity is a joy ride. We have to understand that sexual activity is part of our relationship with God. God does not have to tolerate offensive sexual behaviors from us.

Our schools have to teach our kids about the consequences of using illegal drugs, alcohol, tobacco and firearms. They have to understand what prison life is like. They have to understand what will happen to them if they rob a bank or commit another type of crime with a firearm. Then they have to make decisions for themselves.

Our schools have to engage in constructive discipline for our kids and young adults. Teachers and psychotherapists should not believe that injuring students should be a constructive way to teach them the difference between right and wrong. We must help kids to modify their behaviors by offering them incentives and rewards for achieving successful improvement in their behaviors and in their academic performance.

Students that have behavioral issues should have access to psychotherapy and to psychological assessments. Psychiatrists should help students that have diagnosed psychiatric disorders regardless of whether the family has medical insurance for the young child or young adult. Clinical social workers should evaluate the child's eligibility for SSI benefits and Medicaid Benefits.

It is so important to treat psychiatric problems when parents and educators first detect them so that the child and/or young adult will have the best chance of leading a normal life in the future.

Our middle schools and high schools will teach our students about how we work with God to create and to develop human life. Special family planning teachers will talk about the real purpose of sexual intercourse between a man and a woman. They will talk about a pregnancy as the final result of a series of sexual encounters that will finally result in the creation of a human life inside of God's Factory of Human Life inside of a woman.

Family planning counselors will talk with the kids and young adults about the benefits of achieving parenthood. They will talk to students about how achieving parenthood changes our lives and our relationship with God. They will talk about the consequences of engaging in high-risk sexual behaviors. They will show the students the kinds of sores and callouses that happen when a young adult or an adult suffers from a sexually transmitted disease.

They have to talk about the deadliest sexually transmitted disease, HIV. They have to describe exactly how a person can become infected with HIV. The students must understand that HIV cause AIDS which is a fatal disorder that destroys the body's immune system. Kids must understand that an HIV Positive patient can die from a fight with bronchitis. They have to understand what they can do to protect themselves against getting infected with HIV.

Family planning counselors have to talk about the difference between heterosexuality and homosexuality. Heterosexuals seek to achieve parenthood with a member of the opposite gender. Homosexuals reject their potential to achieve parenthood while they try to impregnate members of their same gender. Heterosexuals seek to impregnate members of the opposite gender while seeking to achieve a pregnancy and parenthood. A homosexual does not achieve much since a partner of the same gender cannot become pregnant no matter what they do.

Family planning counselors will not attack young adults for choosing the heterosexual lifestyle or the homosexual lifestyle. However, all young adults must understand the risks that are involved when they taunt God with high-risk sexual behaviors like swinging, one night stands, promiscuity, rape, date rape, group sex, pornographic lifestyles, and the reckless exchange of body fluids with a stranger.

God creates all human life inside of His Factory of Human Life inside of a Woman. We have to respect the jurisdiction that he has over the creation, development, and maintenance of human life. We also have to teach our kids and young adults that we all answer to God with our sexual behaviors.

Our government must provide funding for special types of programs that will help all of our students to find it to be easier to achieve success in our schools. Internet educational training websites would greatly help our teachers to develop students properly.

Every one of our students deserves a good education. We must do everything that we can to make sure that every student achieves his and/or her potential to achieve success in the classroom in grammar school, in middle school, in high school, and in College.

At least one psychiatrist and one psychologist should be assigned to every grammar school, to every middle school, to every high school, and to every college. We must understand that some of our undergraduates to become mentally ill at some point in their undergraduate years. Our schools have to find mechanisms to save the lives of undergraduate students that suffer from psychiatric disorders. It is a desperate problem that we have to address in all of our schools.

It is a tragedy when an undergraduate student tries to hurt himself or herself and/or others while he or she is a student in a school. We have to offer intensive psychiatric treatment and psychological counseling to those high-risk students. Family planning counselors can also help students to deal with raging hormones, consummation pressures, and peer pressures to become sexually active. Undergraduates need expert-level advice in order to deal with these issues.

Our medical community has to exist in our schools. We must stop tragedies from happening in our schools. We must help our teachers and other school officials to provide psychological help to their students so that the tragedies will end.

All students need to reach God whether or not they go to a public or a private school. All students need to pursue a religious faith and an individual relationship with God. Parochial school students get more training in how to communicate with God than students in public schools. That does not necessarily mean that God does not have any relationships with public school students.

We can encourage all public and private school students to pursue a religious faith and a relationship with God after school hours at local community centers and religious buildings. All of our public school students would probably benefit from pursuing a religious faith and from making a strong effort to find God through prayer. We should give public and private school students equal opportunities to find God through prayer and meditation. God wants to talk with all of our students and He wants to guide them in the right direction so that they can get help to solve their problems.

Religious counselors would work with their students to help our students to feel comfortable with their relationship with God. Religious counselors could help both public school and private school students to find God through the pursuit of a religious faith, through prayer, and through daily interactions with God. Religious counselors would be similar to psychotherapists that would give undergraduate students advice about issues that relate to their relationship with God. These counselors would either be psychotherapists or would be psychologists with extensive training in religious issues.

We need to get God involved if we are going to work together to make sure that all of our kids will not fail because of substance abuse problems, behavioral problems, or psychiatric problems.

Psychotherapists and psychologists will use standardized psychological testing to identify which students in a school would benefit from psychiatric treatment and from an evaluation from a psychotherapist. Parents would have to give permission so that the kids could take the assessments.

The main goal of this program would be to get psychotherapists and psychiatrists involved when they discover that a student is a high-risk candidate to develop a psychiatric disorder. The testing program would recommend that the student would be evaluated by a psychotherapist and by a psychiatrist.

The ultimate goal would be to make sure that high-risk students would be able to get the psychiatric treatment and the psychological counseling that they would need in order to have the best chance to live a normal life.

Religious counselors might also be involved in order to help the student to reach out to God to get help on top of the help that the student would already be receiving. Students in this program would be encouraged to pray to God and to try to communicate with God.

Online Tutoring Programs would help students that are at risk of falling behind in their studies to get the help that they will need to keep a steady pace with their classmates. Students that need additional tutoring would be able to get it at little or no cost on an internet tutoring website. These students would be able to continue to study different types of courses even in the summers if they would choose to do so. This program would give all students an advantage no matter what school in which they would be enrolled.

Students would be able to complete learning modules that would be additional to their course studies in school. The combination of their schooling and their extracurricular online studying would give them advantages that could help them to achieve the highest grades that would be possible.

Criminal Justice Counselors would give high-risk students extra training in how to understand the laws so that they will think several times before they will commit a crime. These counselors will work with psychiatrists and psychotherapists to try to save the lives of juveniles that might be giving up on school and on their freedom.

All students would participate in Criminal Justice Seminars. These seminars would help our public school students and our private school students to understand the difference between what is legal and what is not legal. The students would see what it is like to live in a prison. Our students would see what it is like to be arrested for doing drugs. Our students would come to understand what they would be facing if they were to pursue a life of crime.

Special Educators would evaluate every public and private school through standardized testing and through interviews with students and faculty members. They would make suggestions about how to make their schools the best schools that they could possibly achieve. These special educators would work hard to make sure that our schools would provide the students with the best education that could be humanly possible in the school. Special educators would also supervise, would train, and would prepare teaching candidates for their certification exams.

What is the Destiny of the Space Program?

We must believe that there is a better future for our space exploration program. Our dreams can only become a reality when we believe that they can become a reality.

A rocket based space exploration program is extremely expensive and cumbersome. It gives our astronauts very limited options as far as what they can do to explore our solar system. Rocket propelled capsules can also pose a grave danger to our astronauts. They can be unreliable and can fail at any time. They also provide a very hazardous and inhumane living environment for the occupants of the space capsules.

We must think about how to generate power when we think about how to build a new super spaceship that will allow us to safely travel out in to space to visit the planets of our solar system. We must invent a mechanism that will provide a constant stream of power over an extended period of time that will be continuous and that will not expire.

We have to develop what is called a Clean Energy Generator. This mechanism would provide a continuous flow of energy to all of the circuits, systems, and components of the new space exploration vehicle. A Clean Energy Generator would power the Propulsion System, the Levitation System, and the life support systems of the spaceship.

There are many technologies that we have yet to develop so that the dream of inventing a Space Saucer Craft could become a reality. We have to develop state-of-the-art communication systems, sanitation systems, life support systems, internal gravitation systems, and various types of rooms such as living rooms and private rooms for each of our astronauts.

The space ship would have a gravitational field that would mimic the gravitational field of our Planet Earth. That means that everything that would be inside the spaceship would have a weight that would be similar to the weight of the objects within the Earth's gravitational field. This would help the astronauts to have a more humane living experience in outer space.

We can also develop Fluid Generators that would produce an indefinite amount of water for the astronauts to drink, to use with food, and to use with sanitation. We should believe that we could actually develop Fluid Generators for use in spaceships in for other purposes here on Earth.

The safety of our astronauts is the main priority when we try to develop a new spaceship. We also want to build a mechanism that is reusable, that is reliable, and that is relatively inexpensive. We want a spaceship that can be the size of two or three houses and that can contain dozens of astronauts at a time. We would want to design a spaceship that would have music, television, movies, and recreational rooms and activities.

Our communications systems would send signals to and from The Planet Earth at many times the speed of light. It would be very easy to for mission control specialists on Earth to communicate with our astronauts in outer space.

Generators for the spaceship would produce electromagnetic forces that would control levitation, propulsion, and the spaceship's altitude. Special circuits in the spaceship would regulate the power that would be used to control the spaceship's altitude, velocity, and direction while it is traveling within a planet's gravitational field.

The spaceship would fly at many times the speed of sound within a planet's gravitational field. The spaceship might travel many times faster than that in outer space. The spaceship's Clean Energy Generators could provide enough power to help the spaceship to achieve unprecedented velocities within the Earth's gravitational field and in outer space.

The space ship could drift into and out of the earth's gravitational field without having to use heat shields. The spaceship's electromagnetic altitude regulator systems would allow the spaceship to have a slow decent into the planet's atmosphere so that it would not cause a fireball upon reentry.

The spaceship could store enough food and water to help the astronauts to survive in outer space for extended periods of time. These spaceships would have food preparation facilities.

Such vehicles could cut travel times between two points on a planet by 90% in some scenarios. This would stimulate the economy and the capabilities of our transportation organizations.

Such a spaceship would make it less expensive to send food, liquids, and medications to other parts of the world. That would greatly help our doctors to treat their patients all over the world. It would help us to help our starving brothers and sisters all over the world also.

This type of vehicle would be much more reliable than rocket-based space-exploration vehicles. It would save billions of dollars in the end. It would become the most efficient and cost effective way to travel both within the Earth's atmosphere and to explore our solar system.

The Destiny of the United Nations

We are all part of One Human Nation that answers to the One True God. God creates all of us. God sustains the existence of all of us. God gives us everything that we need to continue to function as human beings in his creation. We must respect his feelings and his will for us whenever we believe that we can undertake a task or to achieve a goal.

God worked with Humanity to create the United Nations. The United Nations is the central meeting point of all of the governments and the peoples of Humanity. The United Nations always answers to God. We all answer to God. We must respect the power of the United Nations to help us and all of our brothers and sisters throughout the world.

The United Nations is destined to become the Government of Humanity. The United Nations will one day allow all of our brothers and sisters all over the world to find a lasting peace with each other and with God. The United Nations will one day stop all wrongful deaths and the destruction that would come out of the detachment from God that our brothers and sisters will face throughout the world.

Our new space-age technologies such as a new and more reliable spaceship would give the United Nations more options in helping our desperate brothers and sisters throughout the world. The new technologies that we may be developing could help the United Nations to educate us as to how to protect ourselves against the transmissions of sexually transmitted diseases. The United Nations can help us to stop the hatred that ignites violence all over the world. The United Nations can establish international schools that can help our children and young adults to understand that we all belong to one human family that answers to the One True God.

The United Nations will become the largest employer of psychiatrists, psychotherapists, and mental health professionals in the world. The United Nations will also be the largest employer of medical doctors in the world. The United Nations will also own and manage the largest network of medical hospitals in the world. The United Nations will make sure that they will reach practically everyone in the world that would need medical care and psychiatric care.

The U.N. will work with God to end violence and conflict between all nations within Humanity through peaceful confrontation. The U.N. will answer to God when it attempts to resolve conflicts and problems that nations will have with each other. The U.N. will discourage violence and the destruction of human life all over the world. Peaceful confrontation means that conflicts between nations will be resolved without the use of violence, the threats of violence, or the hateful intent to commit violence.

There will come a time when all peoples of all nations will have the opportunity to participate in our space program. We will someday invite our brothers and sisters throughout the world to join us in missions to explore our solar system. The United Nations will someday assume the role of the manager of our International Space Exploration Program.

It is inconsiderate of our brothers and sisters around the world to disqualify them from participation in our Space Exploration Program. We must show love for our fellow brothers and sisters by inviting them to join us in our mission to explore the solar system.

The U.N. will be the largest employer of peacekeepers in the world. Their mission will be to help our brothers and sisters around the world to see the benefit in living in peace with one another. They must understand that God does not create and sustain human life so that it will be engaged in nonstop conflict within itself and with God. U.N. Peacekeepers will be therapists that will work with God too help violent nations and violent people to understand the benefits of living in peace with one another.

We must negotiate an end to violence and hatred between our brothers and sisters through the United Nations. We must provide psychiatric and medical treatment to our brothers and sisters if they need it. We must help them to resolve the differences between them that cause them to have the intent to resort to violence to solve their problems. We must help them to negotiate with each other, with God, and with the U.N. in order to achieve the ultimate goal of achieving peace with themselves and with others.

God will work to achieve the Unification of Humanity through the pursuit of scientific achievement. Our scientists always work with God and with the Holy Spirit. Scientists help us to find God in our lives. They will work with the U.N. to help all of us to resolve our conflicts with God that come from the detachments from God that a person may suffer in his or her lifetime. The U.N. must embrace the power of scientists to help it to find ways to achieve the final Unification of Humanity.

God will work with scientists and religious leaders in order to have a positive presence within the United Nations. God will have much to offer the U.N. when it continues to work to bring resolutions to solve Humanity's problems. Scientists and religious leaders have to help our world leaders in the U.N. to find God and to fulfill the will of God as they try to help Humanity to recover from decades and centuries of conflict. Our leaders in the U.N. have to understand that God plays a role in every effort that they make to help Humanity.

The United Nations will create and manage the world's first international university, Humanity International University. This creation of this university will be the first major attempt to bring about the Unification of Humanity. This school will ultimately have campuses in every country in the world and on the internet. Students from all over the world would be able to join in international forums and organizations that would help them to understand about God and about Humanity. This university will teach courses in every language on this planet. This university will be committed to helping its international students to preserve the peace within Humanity and to bond with God thorough prayer and meditation.

It will be the goal of the United Nations to provide psychiatric treatments to all those of us that seek to pursue the intent to hurt ourselves and to hurt others. The U.N. must work to help those that seek to destroy themselves in the process of the effort to destroy others.

We must pray for the U.N. and for these disparate people who do not know any better than to dream about accomplishing a goal through simultaneous suicide and homicide. The love of God must be able to reach these people through psychiatric treatment and psychological counseling before they carry out their intents to hurt themselves and/or to hurt others. We must pray that the Governments of Humanity will find ways to help suicidal and homicidal people and to get them life-saving help so that they will achieve an attachment to God and will no longer have the intent to hurt themselves and/or to hurt others. The United Nations must be at the forefront of this movement all over the world.

The Destiny of Medicine

There will come a time when medical doctors will have the ability to cure all terminal illnesses. The time will come when God will be able to work with our chemical engineers, chemists, mechanical engineers, and other scientists to create treatments that could save the lives of virtually all terminally ill human beings. There will come a time when our life expectancy here on the Planet Earth could reach beyond one-hundred-and-ten years old.

Medical doctors work with God and with the Holy Spirit all of the time. God and the Holy Spirit help doctors to treat their patients. They help doctors to understand the nature of their patients' illnesses. They work to help patients to live the best lives that the patients could possible live. Doctors must embrace their relationships with God and with the Holy Spirit so that they can give their patients the full benefit of their medical powers and of their medical training.

Doctors will stop us from feeling emotional and physical pain. They will work with God and with the Holy Spirit to treat the causes of pain and not just the pain as a symptom of an illness. We will stop feeling emotional and psychological pain. Psychiatrists will help us to live in peace with our loved ones and will help us to stop feeling emotional pain that would come from conflict and arguments between ourselves and our loved ones.

Those of us that suffer from emotional and psychological pain will get the help that we need to try to live a normal life when psychiatrists and psychotherapists help to treat all of us for the sources of our pain and suffering.

We will make unprecedented progress in curing our disabilities. Our doctors will know how to remove the diseases and birth defects that cause our disabilities. Peoples with disabilities will have unprecedented levels of functioning and abilities to perform in schools and in jobs. Doctors will no longer say that there would be nothing that they could do for a certain patient.

Our doctors and medical professionals will be able to slow down the aging process of most of us. That means that we will be able to look younger for longer periods of time into our thirties and forties. It would a good goal for our doctors, scientists, and engineers to find some way to completely stop the aging process when we reach our twenties. It is a wonderful dream. We have to conduct scientific research to determine what it is that causes aging in men and women. We can then develop strategies to try to develop medical treatments to help young adults to slow down or to stop the aging process. It is a really beautiful dream. It is possible if we look to God and to the Holy Spirit for help in making that dream to come true.

Our psychiatrists and psychotherapists will have the power to stop all of us to refrain from attempting to commit suicide and/or homicide. Our community of behavioral health care professionals will foresee that someone is on the brink of hurting himself or herself and is on the brink of hurting others. These behavioral health specialists will then help these desperate people to get the help that they will need before they carry out their intentions to hurt themselves and to hurt others. This will be a universal effort to find these desperate people and to try to make sure that we can provide life-saving psychiatric treatment for them so that they will not destroy themselves.

Psychiatrists and other behavioral healthcare specialists will stop the criminalization of our students in all of our schools. They will try very hard to prevent students from seeking to make a career out of committing crimes. Doctors and therapists will try to treat these kids and young adults for psychiatric illnesses if that is the cause of their fantasies to commit crimes and to hurt themselves. Psychotherapy will help students to understand the difference between right and wrong. Therapists would be able to explain the consequences of committing crimes to high risk kids and young adults in an effort to save their lives.

Our behavioral health professionals have to make sure that our schools will stop teaching and graduating students that will become criminals and will spend most of their lives in incarceration or in homelessness. We must work with psychiatrists and psychotherapists to teach the way that the real world exists to our kids and young adults. Our kids and young adults have to learn how not to commit crimes and how not to face the consequences of committing crimes.

Psychiatrists, psychologists, psychotherapists, and other behavioral health professionals should work with the Criminal Justice System to help all of our students to understand what is legal and what is not legal in both our public and private grammar schools, middle schools, and high schools. Our kids have to know when they will need psychiatric care and where to search for it. Criminal justice courses for high-risk children and young adults could make it much less likely that our kids and young adults will resort to committing crimes later in life. Behavioral health professionals should form a partnership with our Criminal Justice System to try to save our students when they are kids and young adults in grammar schools, middle schools, and in high schools.

Doctors can elevate our standard of living by making sure that we will obtain the top-of-the-line healthcare that we need and deserve. We will be able to function in our schools, in our workplaces, and in our personal lives to the maximum extent that is possible because we will have the symptoms of our illnesses under control. We will be able to achieve a standard of living that will be much more rewarding than anything that we have ever experienced in the past.

Doctors will work with God and with the Holy Spirit to prolong our lives. We will achieve eternal life as God has promised that we will achieve eternal life. Someday, doctors will be able to end death from within Humanity. Someday, we will be able to survive through most terminal illnesses. Someday, we will enjoy an indefinite life span when doctors will have the special powers from God and from the Holy Spirit to extend our lives well beyond whatever life span we have achieved in the past. We can look forward to work with God, the Holy Spirit, and with Medical science to come closer and closer to the dream of achieving eternal life here within Humanity.

Conclusion

Our Human Family has a bright and promising future because we have a Supreme Being in God that loves all of us and that will help us to survive our problems, illnesses, and disasters.

The Destiny of Humanity is for all of us to work together as brothers and sisters to work with our scientists and religious leaders to collectively find the Existence of God. We can only achieve our destiny if all of our brothers and sisters unite with us to make that final attempt to find God.

We should recognize that the Holy Spirit is part of our destiny. The Holy Spirit will also lead us down a path where we will collectively find God. The Holy Spirit watches over all of us. The Holy Spirit begs God to forgive us when we have pushed God beyond the limits of His patients. The Holy Spirit can save us from being tortured after we have committed a crime or have made a mistake that has offended God.

We have to work with God and with the Holy Spirit in order to find ways to stop our pain and suffering all over the world. We must stop the violence that leads to suicides and wrongful deaths. We must stop the poverty that causes lower class individuals to resort to drug dealing in a state of desperation because they cannot find a job.

We must rebuild our economy so that everyone that wants a job can get one. We have to stop giving others the incentives to make a career out of a life of crime because they cannot either find a job or cannot compete for a job. We have to show sympathy for those that have no money when they will rob a bank so they will have just a little bit of money to spend before they will go to prison.

We cannot injure our students in the process of trying to discipline them. Our students can make mistakes. Our students can have behavioral problems. However, we have nothing to gain by seeking to discipline our students by inflicting pain, suffering, and humiliation upon them because they have broken a rule or have done something wrong.

All public and private school students deserve a way to pursue a religious faith and to establish an individual relationship with God. We can establish after-school programs that would promote a healthy way that our students can try to find God through prayer and through a pursuit of a religious faith. We can encourage both public school students and private school student to learn about the benefits of pursuing a relationship with God.

Humanity looks to its scientists and religious leaders in order to seek a way to find God. Our scientists, religious leaders, and world leaders must work together to help us to collectively find God in order to allow our Human Family to achieve its destiny. We must look to God for help, for guidance, and for the power to help ourselves and to help others so that we can find Him in the future.

We love all of our brothers and sisters throughout the world regardless of the religious faith. Hatred between members of different religious faiths infuriates God. God expects all members of all religious faiths to stop looking for excuses to hate each other. We must look to cooperate with members of other faiths and to leave our differences behind us.

That is when we can realize our dream to achieve the Destiny of Humanity.
